COLORFUL START OF GRUELLING OCEAN YACHT CLASSIC

Closely bunched seconds after start of Swiftsure ocean race at 9.30 a.m. today, 18 of 25 entries clawed across line off Brothie Ledge with little to choose between them. Seventeen chose starboard

tack at start; "loner" on port tack (foreground) is Totem, which came about and headed for U.S. with other entries immediately after aerial photo by Times photographer Bill Halkett was taken.

Algerian Rebels Massacre Moslems

ALGIERS (Reuters)—Algerian insurgents massacred 301 Moslem males over the age of 15 in a blood raid on La Casbah, a tiny village in rugged mountains near Setif, according to reports reaching here today.

NEW FIGHTING BREAKS OUT IN TUNISIA

TUNIS (AP)—French troops and members of the Tunisian National Guard clashed on Tunisian territory today. First reports said there were several killed and wounded. The fighting occurred near Souk-el-Araba where there is a camp for Algerian refugees, who the Tunisians claim have been flooding across the border during the last few days.

Dr. Chisholm Supports Ban On Bomb Tests

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Dr. Brock Chisholm of Victoria, former head of the world health organization, says 50,000 persons throughout the world will die as a result of every nuclear bomb test. Dr. Chisholm said Thursday in an interview here the effects of radiation from the bomb tests are not immediate. He said they usually take the form of leukemia (cancer of the blood).

Dr. Chisholm said he is in hearty agreement with those in all nations who are working to have the bomb tests halted. However, he does not believe that a nuclear war will come. "For the first time in history the generals themselves are the most frightened about a new war," he said. "After all, even in the last war, not too many generals got hit."

Dr. Chisholm, who won the Military Cross and promotion to the rank of brigadier during service in both world wars, said no conceivable military arrangement can protect the people in a new war.

First news of the slaughter came when an observation plane reported fires blazing in the village in almost inaccessible mountains in eastern Algeria.

Troops making their way through the difficult mountains were met by the stench of death as they approached La Casbah, a village of 1,000 inhabitants.

PILE BODIES ON STREET
They found corpses piled in the streets, and women hysterical with fear. The dead had been shot or had their throats cut. The bodies of 15 men killed by machine-gun fire were found in one house alone, the reports said.

French authorities said they did not know the reason for the massacre, but speculated that it was another bloody chapter in the rivalry between the two big Algerian nationalist groups, the Algeria Nationalist Movement (MNA) and the National Liberation Front (FLN).

The village also was on the main mountain route the rebels use in moving from the Constantine area to the Algiers area. There was speculation that the attackers might have felt the villagers were betraying their movements.

MEXICAN STUDENTS IN MOB RIOT

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Juarez officials sought help from the Mexican army today in the wake of a riot of hundreds of Juarez Agricultural College students who barricaded streets, wrecked automobiles and attacked a residence with bricks and stones. The school has been strike-bound for 27 days as 1,200 students have refused to return to classes.

U.K. TO RELAX TRADE EMBARGO WITH N. KOREA

LONDON (Reuters)—A Board of Trade spokesman said today Britain will automatically relax her trade embargo with North Korea under the easing of trade controls with Communist China. The list of goods banned for export to China covered North Korea. Relaxation of the embargo also affects exports to North Viet Nam, Tibet and Macao.

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's cabinet warned today that Britain's break with the United States on China trade threatens free world co-operation. It offered to help mediate the question.

Wing Commander Killed in Germany

OTTAWA (CP)—Wing Cmdr. until 1945, when he was transferred to the west coast. His wife lives in Zweibruecken.

Herbert Collier Stewart, a native of Calgary, was killed today when his Sabre jet crashed while landing in Germany. He was officer commanding 434 Squadron with the RCAF's No. 3 Fighter Wing at Zweibruecken. Air Force headquarters said no further details were immediately available.

Wing Cmdr. Stewart, 38, was awarded the Air Force Cross in 1945. He was a fighter pilot for two years during the Second World War.

The crash was the second fatal one in as many days. FO O. H. Levere, 34, of Clovone, Ont., was killed Thursday when his jet trainer crashed 15 miles from base.

TO RCAF IN 1940
Wing Cmdr. Stewart graduated from Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont. He joined the RCAF in 1940. He was chief flying instructor at Greenwood, N.S., from 1943

'Candy' Set Doggonedest Clip Until Spotted, Trapped, Caught

NEW YORK (UP)—Foggyfurze Sugar Baby, $5,000 worth of speedy Bedlington terrier, was back in the world of veterinarians and dog shows today. Her Houston, Tex., owner hoped she had enough of the wild life.

The champion dog who escaped from handlers a week ago at New York's Idlewild airport was recaptured Thursday by Vitantes Rapp, a Trans-World Airlines employee. He got $500 for his efforts from a mighty relieved Virden W. Wilson of Houston, the dog's owner.

Foggyfurze, who prefers to be called Candy, took off for the wild marshes of Long Island's south shore shortly after she arrived from England on her way to Houston. Since a good Bedlington can keep up with a jackrabbit, and Candy is a good one, there was no chance of anyone catching her at the time.

Wilson hired a helicopter to look for her and led a number of searches, but to no avail. So he headed back to Houston and posted a reward around the airfield.

Rapp spotted the dog Thursday and took off in the sort of pursuit that is inspired by a $500 reward. Things looked pretty hopeless until Candy's leash caught on an iron pipe. From then on it was simple.

Rapp said he would use part of the money to buy his two children a dog—but nothing as fancy or fast as Candy.

Russ Blast Dampens Arms Talks

LONDON (UP)—Soviet Russia today renewed its blasts against U.S. disarmament delegate Harold Stassen and U.S. West German plans for reunifying Germany, almost killing hopes for early agreement in the London disarmament talks.

The talks themselves were postponed until Monday so Stassen could fill in western delegates on NATO's "warm approval" of his still secret proposals for a first step in disarmament.

Soviet press and radio pounded at the Tuesday communiqué announcing the decision of President Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that German reunification must precede a full disarmament agreement.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said hopes the UN disarmament subcommittee "would do some constructive work have been unfilled."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our Father and our God, in Thee we would find quietness, strength, and hope. Reach into our disturbed minds with the sure ministry of Thy truth. Give us the conscience and the desire to separate right from wrong. Support us with the heaven born courage to live by the things that endure; through Christ. Amen.

Maruffa Leads Swiftsure Race

Brisk Wind Stirs Hopes for Record

By MONTE ROBERTS

Yachtsmen sniffed the breeze off Brothie Ledge this morning, cast a weather eye at the wispy horse-tail clouds overhead, and smelled the possibility of the fastest Swiftsure ocean race on record.

The 9.30 a.m. start was kicked off by a brisk, southwest wind touching the 25 mile per hour mark; indications were for strong westerlies this afternoon; and hopes of the 25 skippers entered hung on winds brisk enough to help them beat up Juan de Fuca Strait against a strong flood tide.

Veteran observers rated the start as one of the best in the history of the 136-mile race. From Victoria's waterfront to Swiftsure Lightship and return.

The entries were closely bunched at the starting gun. Most had at least one reef in their mainsails as they laid away from the southwest wind, heading toward Port Angeles on the starboard tack, to gain sea room for the zig-zag course they would need to clear Race Rocks.

All skippers fought to weather the adverse currents around Race Rocks during the slack tide period prior to noon today, and by that time at least five boats had made it.

From noon until about 4 a.m. Saturday, it will be a fight to use whatever wind is blowing to combat a strong incoming tide.

First to beat their way through the Race, at 11.30 a.m., were Maruffa (first boat home in 1956), Mary Bower, Cotton Blossom, Adios (1956 overall winner), and Diamond Head (formerly Apache).

All five sneaked inside Race Passage to save valuable mileage and time.

Another group of three were fighting through the Race at noon, all strong contenders. They were Dorade, Nautilus and Sea Fever.

They were followed by Delphin, Karen IV, Alatala, Kate II, and Lenore.

CONVICTED

Arthur Miller, playwright husband of actress Marilyn Monroe, was convicted today of contempt of Congress. Miller was not in court when the decision was released. No time was fixed for his sentencing.

USAF Car Kills Communist Guerilla Chief

ATHENS (UP)—An American Air Force car today knocked down and killed General Stefanos Sarafis, war-time commander of the Communist guerilla army "Ela" and Greek authorities immediately imposed strict security measures. Sarafis was killed in a suburb of Athens and his English wife was seriously injured.

The American driver of the car, identified by the United States Information Service as Marqom Mousalli, was immediately placed under arrest.

PROP-WASH TOMMY GROUNDED

A blue pigeon with white wings, Tommy amazed everyone at Hattiesburg municipal airport by meeting incoming planes on the runway and riding on a wing or the tail as they taxied in. He perched on departing planes until the aircraft's gathering speed forced him off.

Crews Facing Vicious Battle

Weatherman Bill Mackie introduced a somewhat pessimistic note on wind force with a forecast that winds will decrease as the competing yachts sail westward. There is a possibility they will be becalmed during the night.

But breezes will pick up Saturday, he said, and the chances are the boats will have a brisk downwind run home.

Some yachtsmen hope for a 26-hour elapsed time on the race, which would bring the leading yacht home into the Inner Harbor by noon Saturday for an all-time record.

The race is considered the toughest of all yachting events in North American waters. In addition to rough seas and almost-unpredictable winds, the skippers and crew battle vicious tide rips, possible fog, and stomach-rolling swells.

The current issue of Sports Illustrated calls the race "mile for mile, the roughest race of all."

Escort ships for the racers are HMC Ships Fortune and James Bay, the Island Tug & Barge

RCN Jet Explodes In Air Near Halifax

HALIFAX (BUP)—A Royal Canadian Navy Banshee twin-jet fighter aircraft exploded in the air today above Macnabs Island, Halifax harbor. There is no word on fate of the pilot, but helicopters and harbor craft went to search the area.

West Drafts Major Plan—Adenauer

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today the West is preparing to submit to Russia an important proposal of "great moral significance for the whole world."

He made the announcement at a press conference, after returning from Washington, where he conferred with President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles.

The 81-year-old chancellor said he could disclose no details now, explaining that consultations are still going on among the Western allies.

He hinted that the proposal will be made in the London disarmament talks in an effort to win the confidence and goodwill of Russia in the search for a formula to relax East-West tension. The London arms talks are in recess until Monday.

ON THE HUSTINGS

Faurey Spells Out Pensions Policy

Dr. F. T. Faurey, Liberal candidate in Victoria, said Thursday night the present old age pension was never intended to be the sole financial support for senior citizens.

It was considered only as "assistance," Dr. Faurey said, denying that he had ever said it was "sufficient."

The original $40 monthly pension was a "product of a committee composed of members from all the parties," he told an audience at Carnarvon Church Hall.

The committee had unanimously recommended the $40 monthly pension without a means test because of the difficulty of administering it among Canada's scattered population.

"It was thought wise to leave the supplementary payments to the provinces," Dr. Faurey said. The Liberal candidate blasted the "bald statements" by B.C. Social Credit leaders that the provincial government pays a $20 monthly bonus.

Of the 99,360 persons receiving old-age assistance in B.C. 72,819 get no bonus at all, and the remainder get varying amounts up to $20, he said.

Personalities will not bring Canada the results we need in the management of our affairs, Social Credit candidate Noel Bell said Thursday night.

Williams Hits Out at SC 'Fascist' Trend

Victoria CCF candidate, Victor Williams, said Thursday night the Liberal and Conservative parties will come to the CCF some day asking for protection against the "fascist" tendencies of Social Credit.

"We will accept them if they put humanity first, as we do," Mr. Williams said at a house meeting at 158 Robertson.

The candidate also hit out at the Social Credit promise of $100 a month pensions, which he said was not true. The pledge was dependent on what the individual provinces do, he said.

The present Liberal government has lost touch with the people, Victoria Social Credit

Strachan Explains CCF Public Ownership

Robert Strachan, CCF opposition leader in the B.C. legislature, told an election meeting at Fernie Thursday night that the CCF believes in public ownership of those industries which exert the greatest control over the country's economy.

The ownership could be municipal, provincial or federal. The CCF believes chartered banks should be taken over or subjugated by the Bank of Canada, he said.

The transportation system should be unified, controls placed on the agricultural implement field, and public utilities placed under public ownership.

Mr. Strachan was replying to a question whether the CCF, if elected, would nationalize industry.

Finance Minister Harris Thursday promised Canadian fruit growers "immediate action" should the import of fresh fruit at abnormally low prices injure the domestic industry.

In a release issued through Okanagan Federated Freight Shippers at Kelowna, Mr. Harris said the federal government is deeply aware of difficulties being faced by fruit growers through low-price importing.

If low-priced United States fruit starts to flood the Canadian market he said the government will avail itself of authority it has under the Customs Act, as well as the "emergency escape clause" of the general agreement on tariffs.

He said the long-range plan would be to re-negotiate the tariff rate on certain commodities. The need had not yet risen for immediate action.

Dave Fulton said Thursday night the Liberals have become panic-stricken and in some cases now are "indulging in personal abuse" of opposing candidates in their attempt to get re-elected June 10.

Mr. Fulton, who ran third behind Donald Fleming and John Diefenbaker for the Progressive

Duplessis Men Supporting Diefenbaker

(From Times News Services) Premier Duplessis didn't turn up personally during John Diefenbaker's Quebec tour Thursday, but there was plenty of evidence the Conservative leader has the support of the potent Union Nationale chief.

Mr. Diefenbaker was given the very important person treatment of a siren-screaming escort of Quebec provincial police for his tour of the ridings of Lotbiniere, Dorchester and Bellechasse.

At a night meeting, Quebec minister of colonization and chief organizer for the Union Nationale, Joseph D. Begin, threw his support behind Mr. Diefenbaker's campaign.

FOURTH TO SPEAK

He was the fourth provincial cabinet minister to do so, the others being Solicitor-General Antoine Rivard, Roads Minister Antonio Talbot and Dr. Paul Leclercq.

"We have, in Quebec, every interest in changing the administration at Ottawa," Begin said, "because with the Conservative party we have a hope that those rights for which Premier Duplessis has fought for so long may be respected."

"The province of Quebec has never succeeded under the Liberal party administration of the late Mackenzie King and Louis St. Laurent to get the just return of taxation power as guaranteed by the constitution," he said.

"These rights are essential to our progress and survival and we believe that Diefenbaker will keep his word. This is the reason we have such a vital interest in a change-over of the federal administration." Begin told the cheering crowd.

ASCENSION-DAY CROWDS

Mr. Diefenbaker's crowd at about a dozen stops ran anywhere from a handful on a hamlet street to about 2,000, at an auditorium in Ste. Germaine.

It was Ascension Day, a Roman Catholic holiday and Quebecers were out in their Sunday best. The meetings had hefty sprinkling of youngsters under voting age.

Mr. Diefenbaker today moved to Montreal for a try at the metropolitan area's Commons seats.

Prime Minister St. Laurent had more transportation trouble Thursday, but this time it was of a minor nature.

His arrival at St. John's, Newfoundland, was delayed half an hour, when his plane had engine trouble at Stephenville on the west coast.

Officials blamed a faulty starter on one engine of the plane.

Earlier in the campaign, a car in which the prime minister was riding in Ontario was involved in a collision. He was shaken up but uninjured.

Before that, he went through a nerve-racking experience when his plane—on an instrument landing—overshot a runway at Malton airport at Ottawa during a heavy fog. The second try was successful.

A crowd of about 800 heard Mr. St. Laurent in the St. John's Stadium, which holds up to 5,000.

Mr. St. Laurent was introduced to the St. John's rally by Premier Smallwood who called him "a friend of Newfoundland—you're not going to get a better friend in the next House of Commons than the prime minister. He is the architect of Confederation, he is the father of this province."

"Put him back, Newfoundland can't afford any other prime minister."

PROUD OF UNION

Mr. St. Laurent said "There is nothing in my years of public life of which I am prouder than of what I was able to do to help bring about completion of Confederation" by making Newfoundland a province.

He accused Conservative Leader John Diefenbaker of failing "to appear very interested in Newfoundland and its problems." The Progressive Conservative party had not shown much interest in problems of the fisheries either, he said.

LONDON (Reuters)—British newspapers today have hailed their government's decision to "go it-alone" in boosting trade with Communist China, but express regret that the move was made despite stiff United States opposition.

Easing of the embargo on trade with the regime of Mao Tse-tung is described as sensible and realistic by newspapers representing all shades of political opinion.

Announcement of the relaxation of controls was made in the Commons Thursday by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, who said British trade with Red China now will be expanded to the level of British trade with the Soviet bloc of Eastern Europe.

The 15-country "Chincom" committee, which administers controls of Western trade with China, headed into a meeting here today expected to devote all its time to the repercussions of the British decision.

U.S. DISAPPOINTED

The committee, composed of Japan and the Atlantic Pact countries except Iceland has been deadlocked for three weeks. Opposition to relaxation of controls was spearheaded by the U.S., which said through the state department Thursday that it was "most disappointed" by Britain's action.

French sources say they fear the British decision will undermine the whole system of embargoes on trade with Communist countries, and that other countries are bound to follow Britain's example to prevent a British monopoly of China markets.

The China embargo list—containing 207 more items than the Soviet one—was imposed at the height of the Korean War in 1951 and is described by London's Daily Telegraph (Conservative) as an "increasingly pointless and vexatious anomaly."

The Manchester Guardian, Liberal, says Britain is "doing no more than bowing to reality," while the Labor party's London Daily Herald says the control relaxation "should have been made at least a year ago."

In Moscow, the official Soviet news agency, Tass, said some commentators regard the move as a "serious blow for the American policy of dictation."

TAIPEI, Formosa (Reuters)—Nationalist China today criticized Britain for relaxing the embargo on trade with Communist China. A foreign office spokesman said the Nationalist navy will continue to intercept British merchant shipping heading for Red China ports.

PEARSON SAYS CHINA TRADE UNDETERMINED

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said Thursday night he does not know now whether Canada will follow Britain's lead in relaxing restrictions on trade with Communist China.

But, he said, Canada's policy will be based on what is felt to be best for Canadians.

Addressing 1,200 persons at a Liberal campaign rally, Mr. Pearson said that in the Paris trade talks Canada once again found herself taking a position between London and Washington. While Canada had not decided between the two points of view, she felt that since the British proposal would mean an expansion in the market for non-strategic goods, its policy was more realistic.

He emphasized, however, that this did not mean Canada had come around to the British viewpoint on the question of recognizing the Red Chinese government. Britain has formally recognized the Peking regime while Canada and the United States have not.

U.S. Students Posing as Spies Arrested by Hungarian Guards

EISENSTADT, Austria (AP)—Two 20-year-old American college students, reported posing as spies for excitement, crossed into Red Hungary Sunday and have not returned.

An Austrian border patrolman said he saw Hungarian soldiers escort two persons from the frontier barbed wire barrier at Margarethen.

The Americans were identified as Mike A. Gilbert and Warren William Hair, students at the University of South Carolina. They had been on a hitch-hiking tour of Western Europe. An Australian girl acquaintance said the youths took along a camera, political publications and other objects "for excitement" to make Hungarian Communist authorities think they were spies.

Shown by the Poll

THE LATEST GALLUP POLL, which has been extremely accurate in the past, suggests no change in the government of Canada on June 10. Public opinion in the nation at large remains remarkably stable.

The Liberal Party holds 47 per cent of the popular vote, a drop of only about three percentage points since 1953.

The Conservative Party is supported by exactly a third of the electorate, a gain of only one percentage point in the last four years.

The CCF remains a small splinter with 11 per cent of the total vote. All other groups, including Social Credit, hold 9 per cent.

In measuring the whole electorate the latest poll divides the nation into four areas—the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario and the West. Only in one area, Ontario, has there been any marked change of sentiment since the last national election.

In the Maritimes the Liberal Party retains 53 per cent of the vote, a rise of two points since the first of the year, as against 44 per cent for the Conservative Party, a drop of one point. No other party has significant strength there.

In Quebec the Liberal majority of 70 per cent, as against 22 per cent for the Conservatives, is overwhelming.

The four western provinces remain deeply divided as in the last election. The Liberal Party has gained two points in recent months and now holds 34 per cent of the vote. The Conservative Party has dropped two points and is now down to 19 per cent. The CCF has 22 per cent, a drop of two points since May. All other groups, including Social Credit, hold an even quarter of the vote, up two points since February.

Ontario thus offers the only important change visible to the poll takers. There the poll definitely indicates Liberal losses and Conservative gains.

The Liberal Party held 47 per cent of the Ontario vote in February as against 41 per cent for the Conservative Party. By May this situation had been almost exactly reversed. The Liberal strength was down to 40 per cent and the Conservative vote had risen to 48 per cent.

This sharp change must be a grave shock to the St. Laurent Government but it is not surprising. The Liberal Party could hardly hope to repeat the capture of 50 seats out of 85 in this traditionally Conservative province. The Conservative Party was bound to increase its 33 seats under normal circumstances.

But the circumstances in Ontario have not been normal. They have been changed by the intervention of Premier Frost and his powerful organization at Mr. Diefenbaker's side, on a policy guaranteed to increase Ontario's revenues from the federal treasury at the expense of the national taxpayers.

Mr. Frost's candid cry of "Ontario First" and his demand for $118 millions more from Ottawa—could hardly fail to impress the Ontario voters. It doubtless accounts in some degree, however, for the Conservative Party's weakness in the Maritimes and the West, where a policy designed mainly to benefit the richer province of Ontario has little appeal.

If the Liberal Party is to suffer losses in Ontario the key question of the election is the extent of these losses. They would have to be large indeed, nothing less than an Opposition sweep, to threaten the Government's over-all majority of 75 seats in the last Parliament.

The Gallup figures, while doubtless pretty accurate, can easily be misread.

In Ontario, for example, the Conservatives have a lead in the popular vote for the province as a whole but that lead does not hold, of course, in every constituency. There are many safe Liberal seats in Ontario as there are safe Conservative seats elsewhere.

Similarly, the Liberal Party holds a much larger vote than any rival in the nation at large and not much less than its strength in 1953, but its former majority will fall if small Opposition gains are concentrated in the right places. Some losses seem certain, natural and healthy. They would be much more natural and healthy if they were not concentrated, as the Gallup poll measures them, in the single province of Ontario.

The fact remains that, so far as the polltakers can determine, the Liberal Party is still in the lead across the nation, is the only party with substantial strength in every province and, to come near defeat, must suffer almost unthinkable losses, a complete reversal of public opinion in the next ten days. Of that there is no sign in the Gallup poll.

With a Straight Face?

A GOOD MANY SOVIET FUNCTIONARIES have won a name for poker-faced prevarication, but the recent remark of Soviet Marshal Voroshilov sets a new record of some kind. Visiting Indonesia he assured his hosts that the Soviet Union "has never interfered and will never interfere in the internal affairs of other countries."

With arrests and executions still continuing in Hungary as the result of the victory of Russian troops in the patriots' rising last fall, these words must sound strange even when translated from Russian into Indonesian.

But what kind of a memory can relegate to limbo the Soviet interferences in Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, China, Korea, Vietnam. Nor has Indonesia itself escaped Russian interference. Only nine years ago a Soviet agent, Muso, was dispatched to Indonesia to lead a Communist coup. The attempt failed, but not for want of Russian interference.

It would be interesting to learn how the Indonesians greeted Marshal Voroshilov's claim, and, indeed, how the Marshal himself looked as he made it.

Mr. Blackmore Won't Fade

MR. JOHN BLACKMORE, Social Credit member for Lethbridge since 1935, has won his private fight against the modern Social Crediters.

Mr. Blackmore has been renominated to represent the party which would prefer to unload him. His ultimatum to enemies within the family was impressive. If he didn't get the party nomination, he is reported to have said that he'd run as an independent Social Credit candidate. With growing Liberal strength in Lethbridge Mr. Blackmore received the nomination on a 4 to 3 vote.

So the man who has publicly proclaimed his admiration for the life and works of the late U.S. Senator Joseph McCarthy will run again for Social Credit.

If the later-day party leaders such as Mr. Bennett do not find that embarrassing enough, Mr. Blackmore also believes in Social Credit and its theories. To it he gives overtones of mystic allegations regarding a Turko-Mongolian conspiracy throughout the world.

Mr. Bennett and his company may not like it, but they have Mr. Blackmore with them still. He is their boy, political problem child, though he may be.

Repellant

A FIRM IN KASSEL, GERMANY, is helping people throughout the world to win their fight against predators and pests—helping them to win by a nose.

Dr. Hubert Hindebrandt, the firm's leading figure, has built up a stock of more than 150 synthetic and natural scents, ranging from the sweet fragrance of cherry blossom to "Lion 4" (extra strong).

These are sold to various markets for various purposes. If cherry blossom has an attraction, "Lion 4" creates revulsion.

"Lion 4," for instance, has been sent to Zululand, where a South African ranger sought assistance in scaring away marauding hippos from a sugar farm which the big animals were destroying. A whiff of "Lion 4" and the big animals took off.

One of the generally applicable scents in frightening away wild life seems to be "Basic anthropine." This, the report states, is synthetic human sweat. Many animals avoid it like the plague.

Which accounts for the difficulties a father has when he introduces his son to the lawnmower. About the lawnmower clings the aroma of "basic anthropine." One breath of it and a son is away like a rocket.

TOWARDS THE GOAL

Let George Do It

By B. A. TOBIN

A NEW YORK columnist has written a lamentation on the difficulties of practising the art of doing nothing. Both the world and the devil, he complains, conspire to defeat the man who selects a fine sunny day in which to enjoy what he views as one of the most skilled and most delightful of human accomplishments. His point is well taken and he appears himself to have been the victim of one or other of these powers, in that he has written a column about doing nothing instead of—well, just doing nothing.

The dominant motivating forces of mankind have been variously described as sex, hunger, the will to power, and so on. Too little attention, I think, has been given to the negative urge to do nothing. For a large proportion of the civilized world this is really the ultimate goal.

Lifelong Struggle

As a youth man pursues his education; the better the education the more hard work he can escape. Later he works at his job year after year, striving to amass enough riches to permit him to retire and spend the rest of his life doing nothing. By doing more things more quickly he may the sooner become inactive. His thoughts may dwell on sweetstakes—winning one would enable him to quit work.

For the vast majority of humanity, of course, early retirement remains only a dream. But the hope persists until the end, and the state of doing nothing endures as a shining goal. In a sense it is the Western counterpart, naturally with a more materialistic tone, of the Eastern concept of Nirvana.

For most people a lifetime is too long to wait for total inactivity. They anticipate the end result by tasting its delights in small bites as they go along.

Thus the man at his desk, bench or counter, the woman at her desk, stove or sink, will seize occasions throughout the day to catch a glimpse of what retirement would be like.

They will halt what they are doing, particularly on these warm days, let the hands fall idle, the spine droop, the feet relax, and the mind drift off into that hypnotic state of emptiness that is the essential element in the art of doing nothing.

Only a ring from the doorbell, the telephone or the conscience can recall the faculties and get the human mechanism back to the grind of working towards a more permanent Nirvana.

As in any human endeavor, of course, mistakes can occur. It often happens that during the years of effort and labor to attain retirement a set of habits is formed that prevents the worker from achieving his ambition. He becomes the victim of the process by which he hoped to win freedom, and ends up as the prisoner of his own habits.

Such a mishap dooms the poor fellow to a lifetime of activity, a constant expenditure of energy and sweat. But so insidious is the ailment that he will go on, protesting happily that he enjoys work, that he hates to sit around, that a change is as good as a rest, until senility or exhaustion mercifully ends his grotesque torment.

No truer example could be found for the term "occupational disease."

It is a malady more likely to be encountered in a civilized environment than elsewhere. The aboriginal is immune to the virus. He does not let his ambition to do nothing drive him to work to achieve it. He just does nothing—a short-cut which apparently has occurred to few of his more intelligent brothers in the "advanced" countries.

An accomplished savage doing nothing is a sight to see. He can even do nothing while he's doing something—a perfection of the art which in civilization has been mastered only by small boys, committee chairmen and the higher echelons of government bureaucracy.

Like most deep-seated instincts, the urge to do nothing unconsciously shows itself in our conversation. "What are you doing?" you ask someone. "Nothing," comes the answer. Both of you know this is not accurate. It is merely the inherent soul-desire coming to the fore.

Inner Voice

You thank someone for his services. "It was nothing, nothing at all," he insists. Again, it is his id, or ugh, or psyche, or guff, or whatever they call it, seeking fulfillment.

The public benefactor is praised for his work. "It was less than nothing," he says. That's not modesty; he wishes it really had been.

The welfare state, of course, has introduced a new element into the whole picture. Carried to its ultimate conclusion it should promise everyone a lifetime of doing nothing. And this is logical, too, for if it is true, as the old saying has it, that "the best government is the one that does the least," surely this should apply to the public as well. But don't ask me to pursue this argument. Nothing doing.

As Our Readers See It

Any Suggestions?

Recent discussions regarding the problems of teenage rowdism have been widespread, lately, in both the newspapers and on the radio. It would appear that something in the nature of a teenagers' recreational centre or "Teen Town" is necessary in order to keep these young people off the streets and give them something to do with their idle time.

I should like to try and organize something of this sort—a place where young people between the ages of 13 and 20 could go on a Friday or Saturday night and dance, participate in sports, hobbies, etc. I realize this will require a lot of work and, more than anything else, co-operation from teenagers and parents alike.

If anyone of any age has any suggestions or opinions to offer, I should like to hear from them. My phone number is 4-6276. I am 16 years old and quite well aware of the problems at hand.

SHEILA E. FORSCUTT,

'Roundabout' Traffic

Much has been printed against but, little for a definite solution to the traffic and roundabout problem.

A traffic engineer was paid by the city to give an expert opinion. This opinion and plan were discarded, apparently due to pressure by reported business interests, with one "according to press reports" stating certain construction would not be commenced if the expert's plan was put into effect. What chances has the public got if such bulldozing is allowed?

In viewing the traffic problem in a long-range manner, it would seem that one-way streets must come whether now or later. Therefore, an inexpensive solution may materialize if considered from the following set-up.

(a) Eliminate Hillside, lower Hillside and Gorge as through streets crossing Douglas.

(b) Traffic signal at Garbally and Douglas.

(c) Present separator extending south from Market to be extended to intersecting point at Government and Douglas to a position one lane width from point. Allowing for left-hand turns from Douglas to Government.

(d) One-way north on Douglas from Dallas or Belleville to Hillside. Six lanes with outside lanes for left and right hand turn-offs.

(e) Two-way traffic on Douglas from Junction No. 1 and No. 17 to Market and from Market to Junction. Three lanes each way.

(f) South-bound and north-bound traffic to split at point of separator at Market.

(g) South-bound traffic passing at Market to merge with traffic from Gorge on Government to become a one-way street.

(h) Gorge traffic for north of Hillside and east of Douglas route via Garbally.

(i) Gorge traffic for south of Hillside and east of Douglas routed south on Government to Bay.

One-way streets would give more flexibility to entrance to stores and would bring more merchandising into view because of routing down one street and back on the other.

One point apparently not considered is the problem of service stations on Douglas. Service stations pay heavy taxes. At present they are penalized due to double lining, which cuts off the approaches to their place of business and will be further penalized if the present decision of council is carried through.

Yes, I am an interested party and speak from a three-year "on the spot" check of traffic at the Roundabout.

The Bomb and the Pope

As the air continues to grow more radioactive under nuclear bomb tests, so do the protests continue to grow. Lacking sufficient support from scientific sources and falling hush-hush intimidation, proponents of the tests fall back on the old line—that opponents are communist-inspired.

To anyone, high or low, the red smear can be applied or implied with impunity in the hope that some of it will stick. Now, as reported, Lord Charwell has the effrontery to publicly reprimand Pope Pius for his anti-test stand, accusing him of being influenced by communist propaganda.

It seems to his lordship "a dangerous precedent for the head of the Roman church even to appear to adjudicate on a scientific question in dispute."

It is a dangerous precedent—for Lord Charwell and his kind. Many others, Protestants as well as Catholics, will acclaim the Pope's action—hoping but hardly expecting, that there will be a follow-up, even on a more positive-peace basis, from church leaders in general.

Failure to follow such a lead will encourage the Buddhist Mission to implement its plans for a world-wide campaign to bring about a new realization of our common humanity according to Buddhist tenets.

JOHN McNAUGHTON,

Political Definitions

Apathy is a modern Liberal voters' disease, which keeps them away from meetings, and stops their thinking. And subsequently permits Liberal misfits to sneak into office to ruin the cause of "true" liberalism.

Conservatism is a word invented by frustrated decadent liberal minds, who possess an uncanny genius to make citizens vote first and think afterwards how stupid they were.

CCF represents Canada's Confident Fools, who vote into office Liberals wearing a little socialist lipstick. Once in office, their chief occupation is to disown the "true" socialists mislabeled Communists.

Social Credit's major accomplishment is that they have, under the guise of religion, outsmarted Liberals and Conservatives in fooling the voters.

An Independent is a crackpot who is only listened to and has his greatness recognized ten years too late.

FROM BAGHDAD, IRAQ

By JOSEPH ALSOP

A Visit to the Pasha

NEARLY four decades have passed since the last Sultan of the Ottoman Empire officially created the last legal "Bey" or "Pasha." But the peoples of the Arab lands, boldly stepping into their vanished rulers' shoes, now award these titles rather liberally to those of their fellow citizens who seem worthy enough or powerful enough to deserve them. Here in Iraq, however, in this strange, rapidly evolving land of the two great Mesopotamian rivers, there is only one real Pasha.

When Iraqis speak of "The Pasha"—and most Iraqis are constantly speaking of the Pasha in admiration or annoyance or hatred or a mixture of these emotions—they mean his excellency Nuri Pasha As-Said, fifteen times Prime Minister and still undefeated.

It is a curious experience for an observer habituated to our modern men of power to pay a call on the Pasha. In the first place, he does not look like a man of power, and he does not surround himself with the trappings one expects in a virtual dictator.

First Impressions
You are shown into a small, altogether unpretentious office where sits the Pasha behind a large desk covered with papers. He is rather slow. He is pretty deaf. He is extremely affable but decidedly hard to talk to.

These are the first impressions. But first impressions are suddenly corrected when you notice the hawk's curve of the nose cutting down, as it were, into the outward amiability of the smile; when you catch the half-mocking note that creeps into the voice as it utters safe political platitudes; and above all, when you briefly catch a direct glance from the hooded old hawk's eyes.

Cagey Boredom

The platitudes are hastily dispensed, with a kind of cagey boredom. The meeting between King Saud and King Faisal has been a great success. Arab unity is most important and much to be desired.

Yes, there has been a real improvement in the condition of Jordan. No, the Pasha does not want to say whether the events in Jordan and the Saud-Faisal meeting will anger Egypt—he does not believe in commenting on or interfering in the affairs of brother Arab states, no matter what others may do.

Yes, the general position in the Middle East has grown better in recent months. But no, there will never be security and stability until the Palestine problem is solved.

Except for the reference to Palestine, it all comes out with no inflection of passion or deep feeling. There is no doubt that the Pasha believes all that he says. He simply does not see much point in having to say it. And as one listens, one suddenly realizes why this is.

The Pasha is brave, long-headed and infinitely experienced. He knows, almost in the dark as it were, the exact location of all the levers of power in his country.

If the peaceful levers of power fail him for a while, as they have sometimes done, he is perfectly ready to use his highly efficient army and police force to restore tranquility. So why on earth make speeches or give interviews or offer explanations or appeal to popular emotions or waste time in other such fruitless ways?

Such, very surely, is the Pasha's basic opinion; and this being his opinion, it is not easy to make him come to life for publication.

Come to Life

He will come to life off the record, cannily and frankly, discussing the greatly increased American role in the Middle East, or bitterly reciting his own feelings and difficulties when the British, with whom he has always been close, delivered their attack on Egypt in concealed partnership with the Israelis.

But there is only one moment when he is simultaneously vivid, interested and willing to be quoted. It is occasioned by a question about the comparative mildness of the Iraqi reaction to the Suez crisis.

It was a very tense time indeed, but the demonstrations and police actions were positive piques compared to the bloody hours Iraq has gone through in the past. And why was this?

"We acted promptly to keep order," the Pasha replies. "But the fact that it was easier to do so was the political first fruit of our development program. Our people have jobs. They live better now. A man making a dinar a day on a steady job does not take a few cents from an organizer who wants him to join a riot. It is as simple as that."

After hearing precisely the same thing from a disappointed opposition leader, one was inclined to believe the Pasha's briskly practical response, with its tincture of real and deep pride.

Double Standard

One was also inclined to wonder about the strange double standard of our modern political judgments.

Why reserve the name of patriot for the Egyptian dictator, with his oratory and his bomb plots and his agents and his almost complete carelessness of his people's welfare; and meanwhile why condemn the Pasha, with his much milder government and his great development program intended to give the Iraqi people the means to be truly free?

...Or Tutor Two Tutors to Toot

LAST spring some of my informed friends told me British Columbia would be short, 1,000 teachers when term opened next September.

Since then the minister of education has suggested the shortage will run up to 2,000. This week Bern Gillie showed me some statistics he has prepared to indicate what the situation will be—if present trends continue—five years from now. By his figuring, British Columbia will have produced about 5,000 fewer teachers than the province will need.

Bern uses a series of tables to support his conclusion.

The first table lists the number of students completing Grade 12 in the University Entrance section—that is, those entitled to proceed to university, including the College of Education or Normal School—since 1952.

On average over the last five years, more than one-fifth of all these graduates went in for teaching. This year the figure dropped below 20 per cent.

POTENTIAL SUPPLY

His second table, based on students now in lower grades, and taking into consideration the number who will probably leave school before they pass out of Grade 12, sets out the expected number of graduates in the next five years. This table shows an increase, year by year, until 1962. The increase is based on the larger number of students progressing from lower grades to high and reflects the mounting wave of young people who have entered school in postwar years.

Mr. Gillie assumes that 20 per cent of the University Entrance graduates in the coming years will proceed to teacher training. That is a high percentage. It has prevailed in recent years and possibly it will continue.

On the basis of that estimate, the annual new teacher total would rise to 1,140 for the opening of schools in 1962. The figure is not quite twice that of 1957, which amounted to 660.

The third table indicates the results. It lists in one column the number of teachers required to direct pupils now in class and expected to be in class by 1961. In the second column it presents the number who will be lost to the profession each year through retirement, marriage and other causes. In the third, it shows the number of new teachers who will have completed their training each year and in the fourth the annual net loss, through drop-outs.

The drop-out figure, incidentally, runs to about 12 per cent of the total number teaching in any one year.

To illustrate: In 1955 a total of 8,650 teachers were required to staff B.C. schools. During the year 1,100, or 12 per cent, were lost. Training schools in British Columbia provided 830 new teachers. And the net result was a loss of 270.

By 1961 the combined annual losses—on the basis of present trends—would peel down the supply by 2,500. During the same number of years the increase in the number of pupils would demand an additional 2,600 teachers. Hence, unless some revolutionary change occurs, the province will lack 5,100 teachers to fill foreseeable needs.

These totals do not take into consideration the possible importation of new teachers from other provinces or countries. Nor do they estimate the return to the profession of those who have left it for marriage and other reasons.

They do, however, show that British Columbia is not, and can scarcely hope to, produce enough new teachers to staff the classrooms in 1961-62.

TOO CONSERVATIVE

The figures, say some educational authorities, are subject to question. They're too conservative.

"What does all this mean? No one will know for sure until 1961 or 1962. It could mean, though, that teaching practices are going to be radically changed for mass production. Or it could mean that a lot of youngsters in school now are going to have a much shorter school life than their parents think."

There's another possibility. Do you remember Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Courtenay who satisfied the court that they could do a pretty good job of educating their young son on their own hook?

ing for votes in virtually every riding. We attended a giant rally at which the leader of the CCF party, M. J. Coldwell, made a fighting speech. Here in Newfoundland, politics is a two-party affair, and the biggest CCF rally so far in St. John's was attended by less than 20 people.

But two-party politics in Newfoundland is as difficult in its way to analyze as four-party politics in B.C. Here, the very fact of being part of Canada remains a lively political issue, and the number of "anti-confederates" seems scarcely to have diminished since the people voted in 1949, 78,323 to 71,334, to become the tenth Canadian province.

It is hard for the visitor to take true soundings here, for the Newfoundlanders, while hospitality is basic in their nature, are inclined to ask more questions than they answer, and they also are disposed to promote discussion through a process of exaggeration, a characteristic as Irish as the Newfoundland brogue. There's a charming twinkle in their eye as they discuss the evils that have come to the place since Confederation, and they sing the Ode to Newfoundland with considerably more zest than they muster for O Canada, whose words they scarcely know.

The Santa Claus aspects of the Federal Government, notably the baby bonus and the old age pension, cut across sentiment and if one reduces the discussion to those terms there seems little chance of Newfoundland's withdrawal from what is known here as the Confederation. By the same token, most people here seem to think of the Liberal Party and Canada, as being one and the same. Nobody regards the election as a contest, and there is a great deal more interest in Newfoundland affairs than in Federal politics.

The real question here at the moment is: When is the confounded ice going to blow out to sea so the summer can start? After that comes the burning question of trout—this season is open and the trout are "big as dogs." Then come a number of lesser topics, such as the high price of rum, the importance of the American bases, the danger of forest fires, the elusiveness of salmon and codfish, and somewhere in among them, the Federal election.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

Artificial Moon Will Wear a Hat

Editor's note: Far out in space, artificial satellites will try to learn many things about our universe that previously have been denied to scientists by land-locked telescopes. This third and last of a series tells about one.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the artificial moons which will speed through space will wear a little hat.

And for a time it will be a three-car space train composed of the satellite ball, a big inflated balloon, and part of the rocket that shoots it out. They'll whiz by, one-two-three, in the same orbit.

Such are the plans for the third group of experiments with man-made moons.

Like all others, this moon will be round and shiny. But it will contain a magnetometer, a device to measure magnetic currents. Part of the equipment will stick up out of the top like a round pipe, resembling a hat.

RELEASE BALLOON

When this moon separates from its rocket, a plastic balloon wrapped around the connecting stem will be released, and be inflated by a little cylinder of gas. The balloon 2½ feet wide will become another satellite.

This will investigate how much air or gas there is in space.

Space is not quite a vacuum. Scientists believe there's so little air that each molecule of gas travels 12½ miles before bumping into another molecule. On earth, each air molecule travels only a tiny fraction of an inch before meeting another and popping off in a new direction.

Speeding at 18,000 miles an hour, the little moons will bump into numerous air molecules, and this drag will slow them down. Even so, space is so devoid of drag that even the hat this one is wearing won't make much, if any, difference.

MORE SENSITIVE

How much the satellites will be slowed will tell scientists about the volume of gases in space. Every one of the little moons can be observed for this information.

But even more will be told by releasing the lightweight balloon, for it will be 200 times more sensitive to air drag than the metal ball. The third-stage rocket becomes a satellite too, for a while, but is affected by air drag more than the moon itself, because of its weight.

Perhaps the balloon will be popped by a meteor like a boy using a pea-shooter.

Each one of the little moons will help answer another significant question—what is the exact shape of the earth, and its mass composition?

PINPOINT LOCATION

The earth is not a perfect sphere. Variations in its pull of gravity, due to differences in its mass, will affect the orbits of the satellites. By special computations, much can be learned about the shape of the earth, relative position of land masses, and even the composition of the earth's crust.

Once the orbit of a moon is known, scientists can take sightings on it and more nearly pinpoint the exact location of any spot on earth.

In a main task, the moon with a hat will report new data about the deep mystery of magnetism. Great magnetic currents appear to exist out in space. Are they really there? And what causes variations in the earth's magnetic field? What's the significance? This moon can get answers and will have batteries to radio reports for 50 days.

VITAL INFORMATION

Projects being considered for later moons could produce vital information concerning weather and climate. One moon could plot the amount and motion of clouds over the earth. Another could measure how much radiation comes to and escapes from the earth.

Once in the void, a moon may live for days, weeks or possibly even years, depending on altitude and speed, and what it meets. But inevitably air drag will bring it closer and closer to the earth until it whips down into the earth's thick blanket of air. Friction will turn it into an incandescent torch, like a shooting star.

One blazing moment, then a little satellite dust silently and peacefully settles over the earth.

Bearded Iris Wins Queen Title

The bearded iris, like many more of the popular specialty flowers, has been called the Queen of Flowers.

The title is not undeserved, for the stately mien and glorious colors are enough to convert the most lukewarm beholder.

In their old colors of blue and yellow, the bearded iris were known as "flags". Today's color range is so wide that indeed the flags of all the nations could well be constructed from them. The latest colors to be added are true pink and red, while shades of bronze, blue, yellow and purple are legion.

Combinations of these colors enable the gardener to arrange a picture to suit his particular need, and the varying heights in the different groups add to the ease with which iris may be introduced into a wide bed or border. The sword-like leaves are not the least of the attractive qualities.

The bearded iris, sometimes called the German iris, is adaptable to many garden conditions. It performs well in ordinary garden soil together with other plants, providing it has more hours of sunlight than shade during the day.

It is, however, in the inhospitable, gravelly soil which refuses to hold water that the bearded iris really shines. The rhizomes, or underground stems, love the summer baking they get in such a location, and it is then that the new growth is produced for next season's flowers.

Planting time is right after flowering, and the iris are flowering now. To see them in flower might solve a difficult problem in your summer

Income Tax Board Upholds 6-Year Clause
OTTAWA (CP)—The income tax appeal board, with some strong criticism of the revenue department, has allowed the appeal of a taxpayer against the reopening of his assessment more than six years after his taxes had been settled.
In a judgment signed by board member W. S. Fisher it was ruled that the department had no right to reassess Earle R. Hall of Vancouver for his 1947 and 1948 income taxes without alleging there had been misrepresentation or fraud.
Mr. Fisher noted that under the income tax law in force at the time the department could only reopen a case within six years of the original assessment, except in cases where misrepresentation or fraud was alleged. The act has since been changed to reduce the re-opening period to four years.
Mr. Fisher told the government counsel he was "out of court" unless his defence against Mr. Hall's appeal involved misrepresentation or fraud.

Decision Sunday On Bingo Tax Fight

The Victoria Kinsmen Club bingo to date for Monday's game. A sell-out is expected.

The 200 club members and volunteers who handle the games will hold a rehearsal Sunday at 7.30 p.m. in Memorial Arena.

Besides Kinsmen, there will be members of Victoria Girls' Drill Team, Order of De Molay, Kinsmen Air Cadets, Girls' Ice Hockey Team, Kinetics, K-40 Club, Sidney and Vic Van Isle Kinsmen Clubs.

Bingo chairman Jack Phillion said one argument the club is considering is that bingo patrons entertain themselves and are not entertained by the organization.

Out of the 7,500 maximum ticket sale, 5,100 tickets have been sold to date for Monday's game. A sell-out is expected.

All are in grade 11. They head student activities starting Sept. 1.

THREE CEREMONIES TONIGHT

Best Bib 'n' Tuck For Student Grads

Most memorable night of their school career will be celebrated tonight by students of three high schools.

The young graduates will put aside blue jeans and skirts and sweaters for suits and their loveliest gowns to attend graduation ceremonies at Mount Douglas, Mount View and Esquimalt High schools.

At the same time, school authorities have sent a letter to parents of graduating students asking their co-operation in ensuring "sensible" after-graduation parties.

Carolyn Hill has been chosen valedictorian for ceremonies at Mount Douglas High, starting in the school auditorium at 7.30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Rev. A. I. Avery of St. Aidan's United Church.

Students will dance out graduation night from 9 to midnight.

BANQUET
At Mount View, students and their parents will gather for a banquet in the auditorium at 6.30 p.m., when valedictorian's address will be given by Margaret Nelson.

Leadership cup will be presented to Don McArthur, and the citizenship trophy, to Jim Wilson. Gerrie Warshawski and Dave Emery will receive sportsmanship awards.

Banquet will be followed by a dance in the auditorium from 9 to midnight.

Parade of teachers and graduates will open Esquimalt High festivities at 8 p.m.

REEVE TO SPEAK
Bonnie Schacht will give the valedictory and guest speaker will be Rev. J. A. Roberts of St. Paul's Anglican Church. Reeve A. C. Wurtele will speak on behalf of the municipality.

Before the graduation dance at 10, parents will be invited to see a students' display of industrial arts, home economics and lab books from typing, social studies and science courses.

Graduation ceremonies will be held at Oak Bay and Victoria high schools June 7.

Presentation of awards will take place at Victoria High.

June 12; Esquimalt High, June 13; Oak Bay and Mount View high schools, June 14, and Mount Douglas High, June 27.

PTA ACTIVITIES

Anderson, Park Enter Jaycee Swim

Applications to enter the mass Junior Chamber of Commerce swim here August 4 for a $10,000 purse have been received from famed marathoners Greta Anderson and Tom Park.

Greta Anderson won the 1956 Atlantic City swim while Tom Park is considered Canada's No. 2 male distance swimmer, second only to Cliff Lumsden.

Of the 25 entry forms sent out by the Jaycees to leading swimmers throughout the continent, only three entries have been received to date. Victoria's Ben Laughren is the other applicant.

City Reviewing Barring Police Who Wear Specs

A city police policy of barring men from beats if they wear glasses is under review by Victoria police commission.

Case of an officer whose eyes have been under par was studied Wednesday. A report from an eye specialist recommended contact lenses. It was pointed out these are often worn successfully by hockey and football players.

Cobalt Bomb Gives Cancer Victims 'Fighting Chance', Experts Report

QUEBEC (CP) — A new era in investigating cell structure providing a much better basis for planning attacks on malignancy—was claimed Thursday before the American Radium Society.

The society's 39th conference, attended by more than 425 delegates, also heard of reduced deaths in sufferers of cancer of the larynx and of a "fighting chance" for lung cancer victims past the surgery stage.

Two London, Ont., doctors outlined advantages of the cobalt-60 bomb over X-rays in certain cancer types.

Doctors Ivan H. Smith and J. S. Lott, radiation therapists, outlined results obtained with cobalt on malignant tumors primarily derived from skin or mucous surfaces. These cancers were subdivided by location: mouth area; larynx or voice box; esophagus or gullet; bladder.

Their findings showed patients were more comfortable when cobalt-60 was used to treat cancer in the mouth area because they suffered less reaction than from X-rays. Cobalt also gave more chance to kill rather than merely impede the cancer.

The doctor's other results:

Twelve of 13 patients treated from 28 months to four for laryngeal cancer are with years.

Dr. Ruth J. Guttman of New York said that 2,000,000-volt X-ray treatments provide a fighting chance for lung cancer esophageal cancer five are free sufferers beyond the help of the disease for periods ranging surgery.

CUT OFF BY TEAMSTERS

Beck Jr. Left B.C. When Funds Ran Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—John E. English, a leader of clean-up forces in the teamsters union, helped Senate racket investigators locate a son and relatives of teamsters president Dave Beck after they had been long sought for questioning.

English is the union's 68-year-old general secretary-treasurer and guardian of its purse strings. His opposition is believed to be the main factor in Beck's decision not to seek re-election as president.

It was reliably reported today that English cut Dave Beck Jr. and three other relatives or friends of the elder Beck off the teamsters payroll two months ago.

BROKE IN VANCOUVER
At that time Beck Jr. and two other Beck relatives were reported in Vancouver, B.C.—out of reach of committee subpoenas seeking to compel their attendance at hearings here on the elder Beck's money deals with teamsters funds.

It is reported that the group, cut off from teamsters pay, finally ran out of funds in British Columbia and had to return to the United States, where they recently were served with subpoenas in Washington state.

The 37-year-old Beck Jr., Joseph E. McEvoy, husband of the elder Beck's niece, and Fred Verschueren are due to testify before the racket committee here next Tuesday.

MIXED-UP FINANCES

Beck Jr. and McEvoy have been linked in prior testimony to Beck Sr.'s complicated money deals. Verschueren is a teamsters' union auditor on the west coast. The committee wants to question him in connection with finances of both Beck Sr. and Frank W. Brewster, west coast teamsters boss.

A fourth witness, Norman Gessert, cousin of Beck Sr.'s wife, was the first of the group finally served with a subpoena—after a police chase. He appeared here for testimony May 17 and invoked the fifth amendment 71 times in 21 minutes in refusing to tell about his financial dealings with the elder Beck.

Beck Jr. has been pictured by earlier witnesses as "a spoiled boy" whose father got him a lucrative beer distributorship.

B.C. MAN CONVICTED IN 1946 FARM KILLING

PRINCE GEORGE—An all-male Supreme Court jury Thursday night found Evan Nobles, 27, guilty of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Gordon Burns, 44, near Valemount, B.C., 11 years ago.

The jury, after deliberating only 15 minutes, recommended mercy.

Nobles, 16 at the time, was charged with murder after Burns was found shot in the brain on his farm March 1, 1946. He was staying with the Burns under an arrangement with the B.C. Welfare Service. The accused was released recently from a provincial mental home.

Sentence will be passed by Mr. Justice Harold McInnes later.

WHAT'S THE SCORE? BY Denny Boyd

How do you say goodbye?
Can you take six years of pecking out little words and wrap them all up in a stick of type?

The desk drawers have been cleaned out, we've turned in our franchise in the office coffee club, swiped a couple of pencil stubs and we're headed for Vancouver.

For years now, we've been saying we'd never work in that city but that was before someone there offered us a job.

The boss here has told us he'll leave a light burning for us and we've got the bank-roll stuffed into an old sock.

But we didn't have room in the carpet-bag for all the memories that have collected since that very first day we sat down to an Underwood and tried to look cynical, like a Hollywood reporter.

So we prevail upon you, who have put up with us these years, to store a few mental souvenirs for us.

We have a memory of a fishing derby in Saanich Inlet. We remember Ted Reynolds going to sleep in the stern of the boat and the idea that budded when one of the party found a tin of fast-drying yellow enamel. We remember Ted's horror, on waking up with a yellow face and a bloated codfish perched on his chest.

Cec Had a Job to Do—and Did It

We remember, with pleasure, a little guy named Cec Garriott, a man of twangy words, jumpy nerves and tremendous baseball talents. We'll remember Cec best, etched against the centrefield fence at Athletic Park as he lunged for fly balls. And we'll remember him, on being congratulated for his fielding, asking, "Well, what the hell am I out there for?"

Who has room for a memory from Victoria Shamrocks' trip to Peterborough. We offer the picture of a midnight raid on the pantry, in which a colossal turkey was stripped of its drumsticks and a succulent pie ferreted into a Shamrock room, where the line-up for the purloined goodies reached out into the hallway.

Golf?
We remember Bob Fleming, in an Island Open semi-final, beating Joe Pryke, 7 and 6, when Joe was only three over par. Fleming's putter was a magic wand that day.

And we remember watching a guy plop 13 straight drives in the water at Colwood's fourth hole.

Marching through the memories in lock-step, we see Eddie Wares, Roger Leger, Ed Dorohoy, Billy Reay, Eddie Olson and Colin Kilburn, hockey coaches and great guys. And we will be hoping that the dynasty does not end here because hockey holds too many treasured recollections.

We saw professional baseball, senior basketball and coast soccer die here. We mourned them.

And how about all those road trips?

From Here to There and Back Again

There was the baseball trip with the pennant-winning Tyees, over miles of rough roads in a rickety, square-wheeled bus and the morning when a groggy reporter tried to brush his teeth with shaving cream.

The laugh-provoking flights to the mainland with the Shamrocks, when it was always a pleasure to hear Duff McCaghey sing The Cattle Call.

The recent safari to the prairies with the Cougars, where even breakfast was a banquet when taken with Marcel Pelletier.

The basketball trips to Alberni, where the hours were passed by counting cats, a game devised by Gerry Parker in his semi-pro baseball days. Those trips always gave us the chance to watch Johnny Clark, probably the most graceful athlete we have ever seen.

We cherish the privilege of having known men like Archie McKinnon, Ed Duffin, Laurie Wallace, Gus Ryder, and Doug Fletcher, who would walk a mile to pat a young athlete on the head and give him a word of encouragement.

Names and incidents keep coming in a flood but there is no room for all of them. And we do not wish to leave out any friends.

So here we end it.

We can't just flit off and say, "So long, it's been good to know you."

But so long, Victoria.

It has been good to know you.

Durrelle Gets Revenge, Kayoes Empire Champ

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — A grin Yvon Durrelle knocked out Gordie Wallace of Brantford, Ont., here Thursday night in 2:17 of the second round of a 12-round bout to retain his Canadian light-heavyweight crown.

The Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., fisherman, weighing 174, set up Wallace, 166, with a left hook and finished him with a savage right uppercut. Earlier in the second, Durrelle put Wallace down for a seven count.

His eye streaming blood, the British Empire light-heavyweight champion lay flat on his back on the canvas for about two minutes. His title wasn't at stake.

He was nearly forgotten in the rush to Durrelle's corner by widely-partisan fans, many of them crew-members in the stoney-faced fisherman's fleet of four ships.

Durrelle, who has won five of six bouts in 1957, now is scheduled to face Tony Anthony, No. 1 contender for Archie Moore's world title, at Detroit June 14. Anthony kayoed Wallace in one round at New York last December.

For Durrelle, it was a grudge fight for which he has waited a year. He claims he should have been given a shot at the Empire title last summer instead of Wallace, who won it from Ron Barton of England.

The colorful battler also issued a warning. "A lot of people around here have argued

West Indies In Command

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (Reuters) — Magnificent spin bowling by little Sonny Ramadhin, who took seven wickets for 49 runs, Thursday gave the West Indies a commanding position after the opening day of the first cricket test against England.

England was all out for 136 in four hours before India and by the close the West Indies had replied with 83 for one wicket.

Today, the powerful hitting of the West Indies' batters had carried the visitors into the lead with 260 runs for the loss of only five wickets.

Leicester 143 and 89. Royal Air Force 250. RAF won by an innings and 17 runs. Northants 113 and 222. Surrey 118 and 1 for 1 wicket.

Cambridge University 143 and 118 for 4. Middlesex 390 for 4 declared. Glamorgan 370 for 7 declared and 6 for no wickets. Lancashire 223 for 9 declared.

Nottingham 261. Yorkshire 374 all out. Worcestershire 318 for 9 declared. Somerset 317 for 8.

Wales 373 and 27 for no wickets. Hampshire 223 for 9 declared. Gloucestershire 168 and 178 for 9. Essex 206.

Derbyshire 331 for 4 declared and 119 for 2. Sussex 212.

Marconi Keeps Title

ROME (AP) — European welterweight boxing champion Emilio Marconi of Italy retained his title Thursday night in a 15-round draw with Peter Waterman of England. Each weighed 147 pounds.

COLORFUL CLUB

Acres of Zenders Coming

There will be acres of Zenders at Royal Athletic Park Saturday as one of the most famous semi-pro baseball clubs on the continent tackles Farmer Construction in a Northwest International Baseball League doubleheader.

Manager Dick Zender is bringing the colorful Deming, Wash., club north for its only Victoria appearance of the season.

Official name of the club is Deming Loggers, but the team, featured in Sports Illustrated magazine last fall, is better known as the Deming Zenders, and with good reason.

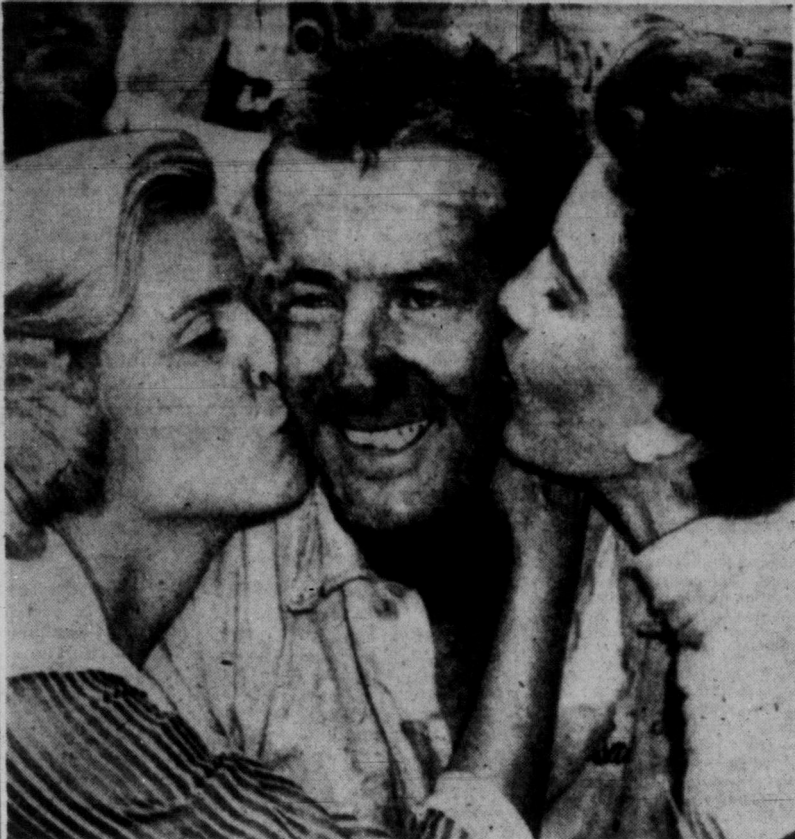

Last season, when they were runner-up in the National Semi-

Pro Tournament at Wichita, Kansas, there was a full team of Zenders on the field.

However, the U.S. army has whittled the string of Zenders in the Deming line-up down to eight this year. Missing is Dan, one of manager Dick's younger sons, who is serving his two-year service hitch.

Dick will still bring seven sons to Athletic Park Saturday and at least six Zenders will be on the field during the games, which are scheduled at 2.30 and 8 p.m.

Slated to sit out the opening game are brothers Larry, a pitcher, and Jim, who doubles as an outfielder or behind the plate.

DOUBLE PLEASURE FOR HANKS

Driving what he says was his last Indianapolis race, Sam Hanks not only picked up chips but was greeted with double-barreled kiss from his wife, Alice, left, and movie actress Cyd Charisse. Hanks collected first win in 12 Indianapolis starts by setting record pace of 135.601 mph. (AP Wirephoto.)

'That's It', Says Sam, '500' His Swan Song

By LEO H. PETERSEN

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — Smiling Sam Hanks, who almost gave up last year when he finished second, "thanked God and his prayers" today for giving the Indianapolis Memorial Day 500-mile automobile race "a final try."

For on that final try, he won the race and announced definitely it would be his last.

"I came awfully close to calling it quits last year when I finished second," Hanks, a six-foot, 160-pounder, said. "I figure that if I couldn't do it in 11 tries, why try again. Then I decided to try it once more—and win or lose this was going to be it."

"And now that I've won, this is it. I've had it."

That "it" came in his 12th try for this biggest prize in America's automobile racing history. When he lost out last year by 20.47 seconds to Pat Flaherty he thought that "is as close as I'll ever come." But he gave it that one more try and this time he won out by 17.35 seconds.

It was the second closest finish in the history of the 41-year-old race. The closest was the .0216 seconds by which Wilbur Shaw beat Ralph Hepburn back in 1937.

Not only did the crew-cut, 42-year-old Hanks set a new speed record in winning the race—which is only one year younger than he is—but he also was sure to surpass the record money winning total of $93,819 which Flaherty picked up last year.

By winning the race, he picked up the first place jackpot of $20,000. And by leading in most of the 200 laps he picked up another $21,500 at $150 a lap. That made his total $41,550 and when endorsements and all the other financial rewards which go to the winner come in, he should be well over the $100,000 mark.

As for speed, Hanks raced 2 1/2-mile brick oval track, with a holiday crowd of about 125,000 looking on, in the record speed of 135.601 miles an hour. The old record was 130.840 set by the late Bill Vukovich in 1954.

As a matter of fact, all of the first 10 finishers in Thursday's race passed that speed. Jim Rathmann of Miami, Fla., who was second about two thirds of a mile behind Hanks, was clocked in 135.420. Gene Hartley of Indianapolis, who was 10th, had an average speed of 131.332.

Between Rathmann and Hartley, Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., was third; Paul Russo of Gardena, Calif., fourth; Jimmy Reece of Indianapolis, fifth; Johnnie Boyd of Fresno, Calif.,

Cracked Car Frame Slowed Up Rathmann

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Rathmann said he finished second to Sam Hanks in Thursday's 500-mile race because the frame of his car cracked slightly about half-way through the running.

"It's probably only a little crack," the Miami driver said in his garage after the race, "but it was enough to make the car shimmy on the turns. As a result, Sam was outdistancing me on the curves."

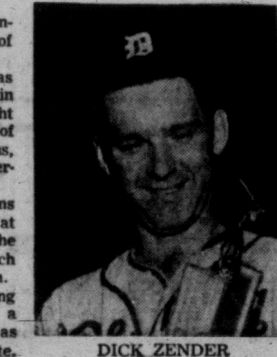

Dick Zender, who earned a place with the National Semi-Pro All-Stars at Wichita, will handle the catching chores for the visitors. One of the most-leaped southpaw batters in the Northwest circuit, Dick will send right-hander Joe Laine to the mound for the afternoon game.

For the second game, Dick will hand the hurling assignment to either son Larry or Ken Jackson.

Manager Ed Ash has named his southpaw ace, Bill Garner, to pitch the opening tussle for Farmers and plans to send right-hander Art Worth to the hill in the nightcap.

The 25-year-old southpaw joins the club in Kansas City today or Saturday.

Pierce Biggest Little Lefty Now

Chisox Star Wins Eighth On 3 Hits

By Associated Press

Billy Pierce finally is coming into his own, perhaps as the best pitcher in the American League, after a decade of taking a back seat to Cleveland's long-reigning staff and New York Yankee standouts.

And with Chicago's 30-year-old southpaw veteran on the move, the White Sox may be ready to come out of the shadows.

Pierce has had his moments—leading the American League in strikeouts 186 in 1953 and in earned-run average 1.97 in '53—but it wasn't until last year that he finally had a 20-victory season. Most of the time, he was just a good little lefty behind Cleveland's Feller, Lemon, Wynn, and Garcia and Yankees' Reynolds, Raschi, Lopat and Ford.

BEST IN THE MAJORS

Now he's leading the league and the majors in victories, claiming his eighth with a three-hit, nine-strikeout job against Cleveland that gave the White Sox a sweep of the Memorial Day doubleheader. Pierce's 21 victory, nailed on his RBI single in the fifth, followed a 6-4 opening success and lengthened the White Sox' first-place lead to three games.

The New York Yankees gained a full share of second place, defeating Washington 9-0 after the Senators had won their fourth in a row, 5-1, in the opener, as the Indians slipped to third, four games back. Detroit held on to fourth, defeating Kansas City 6-5 in 10 innings and 3-2. Boston remained fifth, a half-game behind the Tigers, by beating Baltimore 7-6 in 10 and 16-5.

Everybody split in the National League, leaving Cincinnati 1 1/2 ahead of Brooklyn, two ahead of Milwaukee and three up on Philadelphia.

The Redlegs won the nightcap 7-3 at St. Louis, after losing 7-2. Brooklyn won 4-3 at Pittsburgh, then lost 2-1. Milwaukee was beaten 4-2 by Chicago, after defeating the Cubs 5-2. Philadelphia nipped New York 2-1 in 10, but the Giants won the second game 8-1.

FOURTH COMPLETE GAME

Pierce didn't allow a hit after the fifth inning while putting together his fourth consecutive complete game and finally edging ahead in his career decisions against the Tribe, 24-23. The loser was Mike Garcia.

Dick Donovan, who one-hit Cleveland last Saturday, was tagged for 11 hits in the opener, but struck out five and walked none while driving in three runs himself.

Ruben Gomez had a one-hitter—Ed Bouchee's home run—for nine innings against the Phils, then lost it on Bouchee's single, two intentional walks and an infield hit by Curt Simmons.

It was Simmons' 100th major league victory. Rookie Curt Barclay four-hit the Phils in the second game, settled early as Willie Mays stretched his hit streak to 18 games with a two-run, inside the park homer. (Scores on page 12.)

Portersville Wins $58,900 Carter 'Cap

NEW YORK (AP) — Portersville, owned by the Clearwater Stables of Mobile, Ala., beat Dedicate by a head Thursday in the $58,900 Carter Handicap at Belmont Park.

The heavily favored Boston Doge finished last in a field of 11.

Ted Atkinson, who has somewhat of a monopoly on the Carter—the richest sprint race in the U.S.—rode the bay five-year-old son of Count Fleet, it was the first stakes victory for Portersville owned by Ed Roberts and F. L. (Red) Leatherbury and the fourth Carter for Atkinson.

Jutland, ridden by Eddi Arcaro, ran third.

ROME, Italy—Emilio Marconi, 347, Italy, and Peter Waterman, 147, England, drew 15.

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — Tiny black-haired Lloyd Gordon, 103, of Saint John, N.B., scored a stunning first-round knockout over Gaston Bisson, 106, of Quebec City, to win the Canadian flyweight title here Thursday night.

Gordon kayoed his opponent at 1.35 of a scheduled 12-round bout with a short left hook to the jaw.

The bout opened quickly with Gordon the aggressor, but Bisson holding the edge in the in-fighting. The end came suddenly in the centre of the ring.

Gordon, 23, has won 33 of 37 professional bouts. He has complained about lack of opponents his own weight. The Canadian flyweight title was last held by Pete Lamotte of Quebec City who relinquished it after the Second World War.

Bisson, 21, has won 20 of his 28 professional fights.

Tribe Recalls Aguirre

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians recalled pitcher Hank Aguirre Thursday from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

PILS NOW SECOND

Rocks Take Case to T-Men

Dropped into third place as Vancouver Pilseners broke a three-way tie for second by whipping New Westminster Thursday night, Victoria Shamrocks go after another share of the Intercity Lacrosse League's runner-up spot at Nanaimo tonight.

Shamrocks, who dropped a 17-16 decision to the Timbermen at Memorial Arena Wednesday, will be back at full strength as they attempt to break their winless road-game skein and pull even with the Pilts.

Scoring ace Jack Bionda and coach Whitey Severson will return tonight after sitting out one-game suspensions received at New Westminster last week.

Bionda will line up with Bob Dobbie and Pee-wee Bradshaw on the Rocks' first-string line, while Alan Gill, Kowalyk and Don Sherry will form the second attacking unit. On the third line it will be Art Green working with Jack Northup and Bert Bertola.

Severson will start Bill Bamford and Al Davies on one defence combination and have Lew Landess and Jack Howse partnering Jack Howse on the other unit in front of goalie George Johnston. Tommy Druce is slated for utility duty.

EARLY LEAD

It was a rugged, tight-checking game at New Westminster Thursday as the Pilts grabbed a 5-1 lead in the first period and held off the determined Salmonbellies the rest of the way.

Former Victoria goalie Dave Unwin had a spectacular night in the Pilts' nets, coming up with several difficult tops in his 28 saves.

Stan Joseph, in the New Westminster goal, had one of his poorer games, handling 20 shots and fanning on a few easy drives.

Doug Peden OUTDOOR REPORT

Fishermen are eternal optimists. It seems to be the nature of the breed to believe that the pool around the next bend, the river over the next hill or the lake at the far end of the road will produce better fishing. I remember a fellow in Minnesota who spent half a week-end driving in order to get to a lake near the Canadian border. He returned home with a few small fish while his neighbor wandered down to a nearby lake one evening and pulled out two whopping northern pike. Almost every September, Victorians will head for Campbell River, Qualicum or some other Up-Island spot looking for coho salmon and take fewer fish than some of their friends operating off the Victoria breakwater. And every year, some of us head Up-Island for trout fishing and pass up good fishing a few miles from home. I was reminded of the fact Thursday night while talking with Wilf Sadler and watching fish dangle the surface of Beaver Lake. I was also reminded of an incident of 15 years ago, while Wilf and I were stationed with the army in Victoria. We were both on a soccer team that travelled to Nanaimo for a game. When the team arrived, Wilf hesitantly advised the officer in charge that he hadn't received permission to leave camp at Victoria and hopefully suggested he could play under another name. It turned out that Wilf scored two goals to win the game, but a fictitious Gunner Jones got credit in the papers. But to get back to fishing, Wilf was remarking that there were more trout coming out of Elk and Beaver lakes this year than in any period since he had been running the Beaver Lake pavilion. Most anglers know that Beaver and Elk are hot spots for smallmouth bass at this time of year, but few seem to realize that both lakes can, at times, produce better trout fishing than is found in some distant bits of water. Although limit catches are rare, the trout in Elk and Beaver run to three and four pounds and on the right evenings, can produce some lively action for either fly-casters or trollers. Prospect Lake is another of the same type, where an angler can fish for either trout or bass with a good chance of coming back with as many fish as his friend who headed for a lake 100 miles away.

Big Springs Showing Off Otter Point

It happens every year in the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association Ladder Derby. Several anglers who bring in small salmon during the first few weeks decide they are too small to hold one of the 50 runs available on each of the 10 weekly qualifying ladders. So they decline to weigh in their catches, then learn later that they would have earned places in the final fish-off. In the opening week of this year's derby, a good number of fishermen brought in salmon just under four pounds but didn't choose to enter them on the ladder. As a result, a pair of three and one-quarter-pounders squeezed into the final qualifying spot and the cautious ones are still looking for a fish-off berth. However, trying to guess how big a fish is needed to hold a rung is one of the things that adds spice to the ladder derby fishing. Tony Rosin didn't have any difficulty making a choice Wednesday night. Tony weighed in the first bottom-sized fish in this year's derby—a 21-pound, two-ounce specimen that he hooked on a Strip-Teaser in front of Chesterfield Rock. Spotty during the day, fishing has been on the good side in the Inlet for early-morning and evening anglers. A good number of bluebacks and small spring salmon between two and five pounds are being taken. And although they appear to be scattered between Deep Cove and Goldstream, the best results this week have been at the Goldstream end and in the stretch between Senanus Island and McKenzie Bay. There were some good catches recorded Wednesday evening with G. West following Rosin with an 11-pounder at Goldstream and Mrs. K. English bringing in an 11½-pounder at Brentwood. Big salmon are starting to show in greater numbers in most Vancouver Island waters. Some big springs have been landed off Otter Point and William Head, while anglers operating off Oak Bay have come back with reports of big ones that got away but no fish in the boat. Waters off Saanichton Spit and Sidney Island have given up a few good catches and a run of bluebacks has caused a flurry of activity at Cowichan Bay in the last few days. Further up the Island, Nanaimo continues to be one of the better areas but enough fish have been showing to raise hopes of fair catches at most of the usual spots this weekend. As expected, the new fishing regulations pamphlet confirms that there is now no closed season on trout in Vancouver Island streams, except in the Campbell, Puntledge and Browns rivers, which are closed to all fishing from April 1 to May 15 inclusive. However, the minimum size limit of eight inches is still in effect in all Island streams.

Price Stops Halfway As Gorge Bumps Lead

Gorge Hotel stretched their lead in the senior "A" Men's Softball League Thursday night when they handed second place Halfway House a 5-2 defeat on Dave Price's seven-hit pitching performance at Central Park. Price got away to a shaky start, giving up both Halfway runs in the first inning and allowing four of the Halfway hits in the first two frames. But he settled down and was in command the rest of the way. Stan Stewart was the big man at the plate for the winners as he rapped out ringing singles in the second, sixth and eighth innings to drive in three runs. Dennis Beaulac started on the mound for Halfway but gave way to reliever Norm Haskell in the top of the seventh. Orphans, Queen Eds Battle to Stalemate Victoria Orphans and Dairy Queen Eds played to an 8-8 tie Wednesday night in their Mid-Island Baseball League game at Royal Athletic Park, called because of darkness after 10 innings. Barlow of the Orphans and Cat-toral of Queen Eds each had a double.

Coast League to Ask 'Just Compensation'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Coast League isn't going to fight a "brutally handled" plan to move National League teams to San Francisco and Los Angeles but will demand reparations, its president says.

Leslie O'Connor said Thursday his league would expect the National League to "pay just compensation," which it "can well afford" in view of the public funds which are being "proffered to induce the taking of PCL territory."

O'Connor specifically singled out San Francisco's Mayor George Christopher in saying that local politicians, with National League officials, are guilty of "brutally handling" the negotiations. He made it clear that the term "local politicians" also applied to those in Los Angeles.

The National League has voted approval of a possible plan to move the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles and the New York Giants to San Francisco.

OWNERS WILL MEET

O'Connor called a PCL owners meeting for Monday at Sacramento to "explore all possibilities," which he said included possible damages. He said the majors have the right "to take our territory" under the PCL contract with the National Association of Baseball which controls minor league ball.

He said Los Angeles and San Francisco "should have major league ball," and agreed it would be supported by satisfactory attendance and insured of success by radio and television rights.

But, he said, the ultimate goal of the PCL has been to attain major league ranking. "It has been considerably handicapped in so doing by major league monopolistic control of playing talent and by unfair major league radio and TV competition," O'Connor contended.

SAM HANKS WINS INDIANAPOLIS '500' RACE

Sam Hanks roared to victory yesterday in the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway Classic at an average speed of 135.601 mph to become the 34th consecutive winner on Firestone tires.

... but Indianapolis drivers agree

"The real winner at Indianapolis is YOU!"

As speeds increase at Indianapolis, Firestone engineers have had to develop tires strong enough to withstand the twisting, pounding and grinding of this 500-mile tire torture test... at speeds up to 180 mph.

Firestone has learned much at Indianapolis. From it have come special rubber compounds... stronger, safer tire bodies made from Rayon and Nylon cord... skid-safe tread designs and many exclusive tire-building methods.

What this experience means to you. This pioneering has made it possible for Firestone to offer you and your family the ultimate in blowout-safe, puncture-safe, skid-safe tires—the tires you need on today's highways.

Indianapolis proves it again...

Sports Win Scorer's Nightmare

A scorer's nightmare won the game in the fifth inning at Macdonald Park for Victoria Sports in the James Bay Little League, as they scored 16 runs against CBRE on four hits, five errors and 11 walks to win 16-10.

CBRE gained 12 hits in the contest, while Sports could only manage four in winning the game.

Menzies broke a three-way tie for first place in the Victoria and District Babe Ruth League Thursday night when they eased by Tillcum's 4-3 on Bob Eddy's seventh-inning double that drove in Fergie Webster with the winning run.

The win moved them a full game in front of Tillcum's and UCT, who are tied for second place.

Ladder Derby

Tony Rosin is setting the pace in the second weekly qualifying competition of the annual Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby.

Rosin holds down the top rung with a 21 pound two ounce salmon.

Woman Lives 19 Days on Candy, Pills After Plane Crashes Peak

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP) — "It's back to Duluth from Pasadena, Calif., smashed into 9,500-foot Ferris Mountain east of here May 11 during heavy overcast."

Those were the first words Mrs. Dalton LeMasurier spoke to rescuers who found her beside the body of her husband late Thursday on a snow-shrouded mountainside.

The 45-year-old Duluth, Minn., woman survived her ordeal of 19 days—more than a week longer than searchers sought the wreckage of the couple's plane.

Her only nourishment was three small pieces of chocolate candy and a bottle of vitamin pills.

CONSTANT STORMS

With only the remains of the burned-out wreckage and shrubs for protection Mrs. LeMasurier lived through almost constant storms.

She shouted with joy when she spotted the seven-man party. She was rushed to hospital here suffering from shock, frostbite, sunburn, exposure and malnutrition.

Said Dr. Robert D. Paul, county coroner:

"I thought it was an echo from one of the fellows. Then we saw this woman—she was wearing her husband's pants and jacket but no shoes—and calling for help."

"We were stunned. Not once did anyone think, even for a moment, that one of them would be alive."

Brier Frolic at Rink Tonight

A "Brier Frolic" with accommodation for 1,000 dancers, will be held at Victoria Curling Club tonight at 8:30.

The cabaret dance will be the first in a series of monthly dances publicizing the MacDonald Brier, which will decide the curling championship of Canada at the club next March.

Large rink area will be turned into a dance floor for the event. Music will be provided by Vince Butler's nine-piece orchestra and door prize will be two reserved tickets to the MacDonald Brier.

Note-Taking Hassle Stalls Alcan Talks

KITIMAT—Contract negotiations between the Aluminum Co. of Canada and the United Steelworkers of America have been broken off because of a disagreement over a stenographer taking notes, a company spokesman said Thursday.

The spokesman said the disagreement was brought about by the fact that "the company was issuing a resume of the meeting to its supervisory staff, thus keeping them informed of negotiation progress."

The union felt that a stenographer should take a complete record. The company disagreed.

Alcan officials said they were consulting the B.C. labor department for a ruling on the use of a stenographer during "across-the-table bargaining."

3 Marriages in 18 Months

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Florence May Smith, 20, told Police Court Magistrate A. D. Pool Wednesday she married three times in 18 months.

She was charged with bigamy by her third husband, Albert Henry Kemp, whom she married here in January.

She said she married Ronald Smith in Vancouver in August, 1955. The marriage lasted three months. In 1956 she was married in Montana to Albert Arthur Evans. This match lasted three weeks.

She said she married the second time because she heard Smith had been drowned in a log-boom accident. She did not consider the U.S. ceremony binding.

IWA Strike Threat Draws Near As Wismer's Private Talks Fail

VANCOUVER (CP)—The possibility of a strike in the B.C. coast lumber industry moved closer today as a behind-the-scenes attempt failed to bring a settlement in the contract dispute between operators and woodworkers.

DR. R. G. McMINN

Cconciliation board chairman Gordon Wismer said Forest Industrial Relations, representing the operators, and the International Woodworkers of America had refused to come to terms in private hearings with his board.

Mr. Wismer said the board would report immediately to the labor department with its settlement proposals.

The conciliation board chairman said: "It will be up to the woodworkers and the lumber companies to decide whether they want to accept the terms or not."

ROOFS FALLS AS 97 SWIM IN INDOOR POOL

LIVINGSTON, Mont. (AP)—Ninety-seven swimmers escaped severe injury when the roof of an indoor pool collapsed Thursday. Scores of bathers suffered cuts and bruises.

There was no panic as the wooden roof of the Chico Hot Springs Pool creaked loudly for a few moments, then caved in. Most of the swimmers had gathered to the sides of the building. The roof settled to the bottom of the 50x100-foot pool.

Officials of both the IWA and Forest Industrial Relations declined to comment on the breakdown of Mr. Wismer's attempts to bring a settlement through private talks.

At the end of the board's formal hearings, Mr. Wismer got both sides to agree to meet the board members separately in efforts to iron out differences in the proposed new master contract.

He told the board's closing session: "The main thing is to get some agreement on wages so the industry can carry on. I can't see any possibility of a settlement unless we can negotiate in that way."

If either side rejects the connected to apply immediately ciliation award, the IWA is for a strike vote. With a strike majority, the union could give 48 hours' notice before walking off the job.

The IWA is asking for a 20-per-cent wage increase, union shop and other benefits.

Philosophy Doctorate

Studies that started nearly 20 years ago ended at the recent University of British Columbia graduation ceremonies for Dr. R. G. McMinn, a resident of the Highlands District, who was awarded a degree as doctor of philosophy.

Born in Canada, Dr. McMinn attended Taunton School and Cambridge University in England, interrupting his studies to serve as a lieutenant in the British Royal Armored Corps in India, Burma and Palestine and being discharged from the army in 1947.

He resumed his academic career at UBC and graduated with a BA in 1949 after winning the B.C. Sugar Refinery and National Research Council scholarships and being awarded the Armstead prize in biology and botany.

From UBC Dr. McMinn went to Washington State University where in 1950 he took the degree of master of science and returned to Canada where he subsequently was employed by the dominion forest biology laboratory in Victoria, simultaneously working for his doctorate.

His thesis was "Water Relation in the Douglas Fir Region on Vancouver Island."

Mr. McMinn's wife, Nan, is a graduate of UBC with the degree of master of science in agriculture. They have one son, David.

Boat Works

VANCOUVER—The Coal Harbor industrial section in west-end Vancouver was threatened Thursday night when fire roared through a shipyard, destroying the building and five boats.

Damage in the two-alarm blaze at A. C. Benson Boat Works was estimated at $750,000.

All available police rerouted snarled traffic as 100-foot flames swept the industrial site. Five vessels, including two tugs, were burned to the waterline as firemen from six stations slowly brought the blaze under control. No one was injured.

SEINER LOST

One of the city's two fireboats prevented flames from spreading to nearby Burrard Boat Works and Queen Charlotte Cannery.

Lost in the fire was the Howe Sound IV, a $75,000 seiner scheduled to be relaunched today after a $20,000 refitting.

A fleet of 10 purse seiners moored in front of the yard were towed from the scene before flames reached them.

Herman Benson, nephew of the owner, said some 65 men probably will be without work when the building season reaches its peak this summer. He estimated damage to the shipyard at $350,000. Loss in boats was estimated at $200,000.

YOUTH FEARED DROWNED

MATSQUI — Police dragged Mill Lake unsuccessfully for several hours Thursday night when it was reported that Walter Regier, 15, Abbotsford Junior High student, had drowned.

There were dozens of youngsters in the popular swim haunt in the hot evening, including the boy. Friends missed him when it was time to go home.

Search will be resumed today.

$400 MOTEL ROBBERY

VANCOUVER—A lone gunman held up the proprietor of the Lucky Strike motel here early today and escaped with $400.

Police said the bandit, described as in his early 20s, walked into the motel on the city's outskirts shortly after 12:30 a.m. and demanded money. He grabbed proprietor John Bodiaruk and pushed the gun to his head while Bodiaruk's wife was told to take the money from the cash register.

HOURS REMAIN SAME

KAMLOOPS — Retail merchants of Kamloops and district Thursday night defeated by a one-vote majority a motion to change store hours.

About 80 merchants decided after a 2½-hour meeting not to implement an all-day closing Monday and a 9 p.m. Friday night closing time. Stores presently remain closed half a day Wednesday and open until 8 p.m. Friday.

CAR TURNS OVER

SUMMERLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Ed Amos were in good condition in Penitentiary hospital after escaping serious injury when their small car overturned on the Okanagan highway, four miles north of here. Police said the Amos vehicle overturned Wednesday night while passing another car. A bus, carrying two nurses, stopped and first aid was administered.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

PENTICTON—A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury Thursday in the death of Gabriel Paul, who died of a skull fracture when he fell from a moving car May 12.

D. E. Ezard of Summerland testified he picked up Paul and his brother, Martin, and drove them to the Indian reserve near here. He said the brothers drove off in his car and it was later found near Shingle Creek road.

Police evidence showed Gabriel had fallen from the car and struck his head on a fence post.

City Girl Wins Role in Hollywood

Filming in Hollywood starts today for "The Female Animal" in which Victoria's Marcia Vaughan has a speaking role.

Marcia, 20, is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Vaughan, 4255 Gordon Head Road, and the late Mr. W. R. Vaughan of Seattle. She will play in the Universal offering with stars Jane Powell and Hedy Lamarr.

Marcia's mother left Thursday for Hollywood to be on the set with her daughter, who is well-known here.

Seattle-born, the pretty young lady attended St. Margaret's School here from 1945 to 1949, and last year with her family moved to their home in Victoria where they have spent summers for the last 13 years. Marcia came from Seattle to be presented to the lieutenant-governor at the United Services Ball in 1955.

She had her first screen test two months ago after being spotted as "good potential" while with Pasadena Playhouse prior to which she was featured vocalist with Russ Morgan and his orchestra in Hollywood.

Luck seems to run in the Vaughan family. Five years ago brother George, then 16, and attending Glenlyon School, won £20,000 in the Irish sweepstakes. He receives the money when he leaves the U.S. Marine Corps in September of this year.

MARCIA VAUGHAN... stepping to stardom?

MONTE ROBERTS

I have been asked to tell all I know about boats in sailing races.

Unfortunately, I know a great deal about boats in sailing races.

Boats in sailing races are called yachts, mainly because they cost yachts of money.

Yachts in sailing races require wind to propel them. Use of oars, paddle wheels, propellers, or nuclear fission is frowned on by most yachtsmen.

There are two kinds of wind used for propelling yachts:

1. Not enough wind.

2. Too much wind.

When there is not enough wind, the yacht becomes becalmed, although the yachtsman often isn't.

When there is too much wind, there is only one thing the yachtsman can do. He will stay at anchor and see above.

There are many types of yachts engaged in sailing races, but the three best known are as follows:

Sloop, ketch and yawl.

Many race-winning yachtsmen sloop to conquer. The ketch is often used for fishing, giving rise to the well-known expression "I didn't ketch nothin'."

As for the yawl, it is a sothe'n type boat.

If you are really interested in sailing, you will want to know something about the terms used:

Port tack and starboard tack: Each equally useful, and added together these tacks are unavoidable, as in income.

List: Don't forget the salt, pepper, sugar, weiners and beer.

Luff: Makes the world go round.

These simple facts will make it possible for you, too, to be a yachtsman.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Dominion Bridge Co. of Vancouver has submitted low tender of $2,014,694 for steel work on the new Kelowna bridge across Okanagan Lake.

The only other bid was submitted by Western Bridge Steel Fabricators at $2,054,347.

The pontoon-type bridge is being constructed by the provincial Toll Bridges and Highway Authority.

Kenneth L. Harbur, 40, Seattle, was found guilty in city police court today of fraudulently obtaining lodging to the value of $19 from Douglas Hotel.

He was remanded for sentence to Monday.

HMCS Fraser will conduct mortar and rocket firing practice in the area between Race Rocks and Discovery Island Monday, June 17, between 10 a.m. and noon.

A charge of assault causing bodily harm against Ronald E. Thorne, 1125 Fort, was dismissed in city police court today.

Thorne was charged on complaint of Edward F. Enger, 920 Empress, who said Thorne struck him when Enger was taken to his room by the accused and another man after a party at their rooming house early May 12.

About 250 Vancouver Island sea cadets from five corps will begin arriving in Victoria tonight for a weekend inter-corps program and church parade.

They come from Port Alberni, Campbell River, Nanaimo and Duncan to enter competitions with Victoria cadets. Visitors will be billeted at HMCS Naden, where sports including whaler races and shooting will be conducted Saturday.

Sunday, after church parade at Metropolitan and St. Andrew's Cathedral, there will be a march-past at a salute base set up at the Public Library.

Commodore P. D. Budge will inspect cadets Saturday morning.

A thief who entered Ramsay's Foundry, 435 Garbally, overnight Thursday trundled off with a rubber-tired, flat deck wheelbarrow worth $50. Police said there was no sign of entry to the premises and nothing else reported missing.

Robert B. Moir, 21, of 1836 Gonzales Avenue, graduated Tuesday from Gonzaga University, Spokane, Wash. A graduate of St. Louis College here, he received a bachelor of business administration degree.

Ten-year-old Ann Appleby, 3134 Balfour, was admitted at Jubilee Hospital Thursday with a severely cut arm after she pushed her hand through a glass door at Centennial United Church.

The little girl was attending a choir practice and on hurrying through the swinging door accidentally pushed her hand through a glass pane.

Her condition today was reported to be good, but hospital authorities expected to keep her under observation for about a week.

Pearlman Elected By City Lawyers

Edwin E. Pearlman was elected president of the Victoria Bar Association at an annual meeting Thursday night.

Also elected were John G. McIntosh, vice-president; E. George MacMinn, treasurer; and John B. Gault, secretary.

60 Teenagers Expected To Enter Beaver Lake Swim

Several out-of-town entries are already being received for annual Labor Day distance swim for teenagers at Beaver Lake.

Officials say this year's contest, the third since it was started as a result of a teenager's dare, will be the most ambitious program yet undertaken.

Over 60 entries are anticipated.

Name of the sponsoring organization was changed this week from Beaver-Elk Lake Swim Committee to Beaver Lake Annual All-Day Juvenile Sports Events Committee.

FLY-CASTING

The September 2 program will be enlarged this year to include fly-casting, horse shoes and outdoor checker contests.

Main attraction, as in the past two years, will be the two-mile distance swims from Elk Lake (Happyland) to Beaver Lake beach.

There will be three races. One for youths 13 and under, one for those 16 and under, and one for those 19 and under.

Kindergartens Face Enrolment Cutback

Scarcity of accommodation in district schools will limit kindergarten enrolments in Greater Victoria this fall to about half the number which is expected to apply.

A schedule of classes released today by board officials shows there are facilities available for pre-school training for a maximum of 1,080 youngsters and some classes won't start until January, 1958.

During regular registration week, May 6 to 10, nearly 2,000 registrations were received. Two new kindergartens have not yet called for registrations, one opened registration today.

RIGID FORMULA

School authorities have adopted a formula for selection of pupils which will be rigidly adhered to as the fairest method of determining which applicants will be accepted for instruction.

First priority goes to children registered within the announced registration period. Second consideration will be given youngsters living within the school district boundaries where the kindergarten is located.

If there are still vacancies, consideration will then be given children from adjoining school areas. Last to be accepted will be children from other school areas and late registration.

WAITING LIST

A waiting list will be maintained and any vacancies occurring during the school year will be filled from it.

Here are the nine kindergartens which will operate under school board jurisdiction in the 1957-58 school year. (Private kindergartens are not listed.)

George Jay School four classes, James Bay School two classes (possibly four), Lampson School four classes, North Ward School four classes, Oaklands School four classes, Sir James Douglas School four classes, a new kindergarten will open at Margaret Jenkins School (four classes), and in January a kindergarten will open at Doncaster School.

Other is planned but not yet definite, at Frank Hobbs School.

Registrations for new centres at Frank Hobbs and Doncaster will be called for at a later date and the priority system will be used.

Registration for Margaret Jenkins opened today and parents are asked to register "as soon as possible."

Children from Margaret Jenkins and Monterey School districts who have been registered at Sir James Douglas will be automatically transferred to the Margaret Jenkins kindergarten.

Kindergartens which operated last year at Glanford and Willows have been closed to the need for all available classroom space for elementary school pupils. But by January there will be as many kindergartens operating as heretofore with a greater number of children enrolled.

Children enrolled in kindergartens from areas outside the immediate school boundaries in district 61 may be accommodated only if parents assume responsibility for transportation of the youngsters.

There are 23 fires burning throughout the province, all comparatively small ones which are under control.

FOREST HAZARD

The fire hazard in coastal woods was described today by Forest Service officials as only "moderate" despite the recent hot, dry weather.

But another week or so of warm weather could result in a forest closure, Vancouver Forest District supervisor D. B. Taylor warned.

Walter J. Brynjolfsson, principal of Monterey School will also become principal of Richmond School, a six-room unit previously headed by a teacher-in-charge.

53 Teachers Quit Posts; 13 Appointed

Greater Victoria school administrators were busy today filling more than 100 teaching positions for the 1957-58 school year.

Today was deadline for teachers to indicate their future plans and at noon 53 resignations had been filed.

Officials said this is a normal turnover.

But the expanding school system makes the new teacher demand a record. There will be more than 660 teachers employed in September.

13 APPOINTED

A meeting of the school board education committee Thursday appointed 13 new teachers on a probationary basis, transferred eight teachers between schools in this district and gave permanent status to 99 teachers who entered the board employ last fall.

Two executive appointments were announced. James T. Bruce was promoted from vice-principal of Margaret Jenkins Elementary School to principal of Burnside School. He replaces W. J. Barton who is leaving the district.

Walter J. Brynjolfsson, principal of Monterey School will also become principal of Richmond School, a six-room unit previously headed by a teacher-in-charge.

Picnic Foods to Satisfy
Even the Biggest Appetites
By PENNY SAVER

With the promise of sunny days, we're all set to go off on picnics this weekend. There is something really special about food that is eaten by the lake or ocean or in a wooded picnic spot. It always tastes so much better!

Standard fare for outdoor meals includes salads... fruit or vegetable... and right now the selection of summer foods on local markets is wonderful. If your tastes run to vegetable salads, here are the foods to go on your shopping list: Local tomatoes, all sizes, are two pounds for 35 cents. They're good tasting and firm, and just right for your own "chef's special." Mothhouse toms are 38 cents a pound, and dessert, 30 cents. Of course, you'll need lettuce. It's yours for 15 cents.

For a tasty combination salad, add watercress, at 10 cents a bunch, and radishes, bright and crisp at two bunches for 15 cents. Green onions, a must, are the same price. Chop them up as fine as you can, and they are especially good for the vegetable or potato salads. Celery stalks come in handy in the hot weather, too. You can fill pieces with soft cheese and serve them as nibbets, salt them and have them as an extra vegetable, or add them to the list of foods to be chopped into your salad. Local cucumbers, little ones, are five cents each, and larger ones, 20 cents. Carrots have an interesting taste when shredded and added to a salad. They add color, too. They are two bunches for a quarter.

On the fruit display I found real summertime foods. Fine-apples are 49 cents each, and mangoes, 25 cents each. Seedless grapes, either green or deep purple are now available. Green ones cost 38 cents a half pound and purple, 35 cents per half pound. Plums, always favorites as desserts or for in-between meal snacks, are sweet and juicy, and cost 28 cents a half pound. Ripe cantaloupes are 29 cents each, and small ones are two for 39 cents. What would any summer day meal outdoors be without strawberries... they are 35 cents a box. I don't need to suggest the many ways you can serve these sweet berries.

For really refreshing hot weather cooler, fresh lime juice with soda or ice water plus sweetening is just the thing. Fresh limes are 29 cents for three.

Well, are you all set now for the picnic? Let's go.

TIPS ON TIPS

I am an inexperienced traveler and am planning a trip for this summer. I would like to know how much and when I should pay the various tips on buses and trains and at hotels and restaurants.

Louise Davis

Answers:

Tipping averages according to service, amount of baggage, the type of restaurant or hotel, and what you can afford. It would be a good idea to allow a special sum for tips in your travel budget. Before you depart, I advise getting from the bank ample amounts of dimes, quarters and 50 cent pieces that you stash away in a special coin purse and have with you at all times. Getting caught with nothing but folding money is exasperating and frustrating at tipping time. Generally, 15 per cent is an average. Should you be at a swanky hotel or restaurant, you might want to tip a little more. You tip anyone who gives you service. Suppose, for example, you have a suit case and a smaller piece.

Girl Judged Most Beautiful
Makes Fun of Other Girls

Q.—"We have just elected the most beautiful girl and the most handsome boy in our school. Now all the other girls feel as though they are as ugly as homemade soap. We would like to have you give us some information about how blondes should wear their hair and so forth. The girl who was judged most beautiful makes fun of all of the other girls."

A.—The way you wear your hair depends on facial contour rather than whether a girl is a blonde or a brunette. Evidently success has gone to the head of the most beautiful one in a most unbecoming way. I do not think the rest of you need worry about her. At this rate she will not long seem lovely to anyone. If you would like to have my leaflet especially for teen-agers, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Popularity" leaflet No. 38.

Q.—"I am 5 feet 10½ inches tall and weigh 162 pounds. My bust measures 36, waist 29 and hips 40 inches. I feel that my hips and waist are too large. My bone structure is medium although quite broad through the hips."

A.—I weighed 146 pounds a few years ago and was often complimented on my figure. Is there any way I can lose 15 pounds and make sure that part of it comes off my hips?

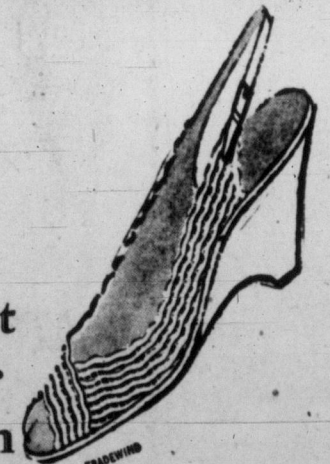

"I feel certain that tall girls and women are puzzled by weight-height charts. The weight they usually give for a woman 5 feet 10 inches tall is about 155 pounds. Yet one very often sees pictures of models who are 5 feet 8 or 9 inches and weigh 125 pounds."

Early Summer Wedding Vows
Solemnized in St. Paul's

On the altar of St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, was a profusion of spring flowers and carnations, setting a floral background for the wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Jacqueline Shirley Walker, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Walker, 639 Constance Avenue, and the late Mr. W. Walker, and Lloyd Edward Lunt, son of Mrs. M. Lunt, Princess Avenue.

Rev. J. A. Roberts officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, William A. Walker, the petite bride wore a model gown of delustrated satin styled on princess lines with a mandarin collar and lily point sleeves. The graceful skirt extended into a full train. She carried a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and green ivy.

Matron of honor, Mrs. J. E. Bemister, and bridesmaid, Miss Nora Hunt, chose full-skirted dresses of nylon net in blue over green and orchid over mauve. They wore matching picture hats and carried sprays of white daisies. Flower girl, little Caroline Taylor, wore a pale yellow nylon organza dress with matching headband. She carried a basket of white daisies and yellow streamers.

The groom had Bob Halme as best man and ushering were Frank Clark and Roy Hinchcliffe.

A reception party was held in the Club Tango, Oak Bay, where

For travelling the bride wore a suit of imported black and white tweed with cape style jacket, white hat and gloves and black patent shoes and bag. Her corsage was a gardenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lunt have returned from a honeymoon trip through Washington, and have made their home at 1669 Fairfield Road.

In Honor of the Bride

Bride-elect Miss Louanne Traunweiser, was honored when Mrs. H. Paulin, 2067 Larkdown Road, entertained at a coffee party and kitchen shower. Gifts, presented in a clothes basket, were ushered in by little Peter Laing and Anne Johnson. Red rose corsages were presented to Miss Traunweiser and her mother, Mrs. G. A. Traunweiser. Neighbors present included Mrs. Cyril Williams, Mrs. W. Passmore, Mrs. F. Fraser, Mrs. F. Grossmith, Mrs. Reg Williams, Mrs. W. Laing, Mrs. J. Gilbert, Mrs. D. Elford, Mrs. K. Lee, Mrs. J. Lee, Mrs. W. Pendray and Mrs. L. Johnson.

Cole-Chandler Vows Heard in St. Andrew's

In St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. L. W. McLean heard the wedding vows of Miss Shirley Cameron Chandler, and Robert M. Cole in an early evening ceremony performed in a setting of white lilac, pink carnations and spring blossoms.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Attwood, 157 Robertson Street, was given in marriage by her stepfather.

For the ceremony she chose a gown of white net and lace fashioned with a strapless bodice of white lace and bolero jacket with lily point sleeves and Peter Pan collar. The bouffant skirt featured an insert of lace at the waistline. A small hat of pleated tulle and lace held her waist length veil of net. She carried a bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley.

The bride had her twin sister, Mrs. Joan Smith as matron of honor, Mrs. Pat Zanelli as brides-matron and a cousin Miss Lorraine Attwood, bridesmaid. They were groomed alike in waltz-length dresses of pink net and lace, with pink flower hats and pink accessories. They carried bouquets of pink and white feathered carnations.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Cole, 3393 Calumet Street, had B. J. Smith as best man. Ushers were Thomas Cole and Donald Cole, brother of the groom.

The bride's uncle, W. Pollock, proposed the toast at the reception party held at Dulcie's following the ceremony.

Pink tulle and flower petals surrounded the three-tier cake which centered the bride's table. Pink candles in silver holders and pink and white flowers completed the arrangement.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a beige wool suit with brown and orange accents. She chose beige accessories and a corsage of Kokomo carnations. Following a honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Cole have made their home at 24 Lotus Street.

A miscellaneous shower for June bride-elect, Miss Shirley Pearson, was held recently at the home of Mrs. W. J. Unwin, 204 Newton Street. Gifts were held in a decorated basket in pink and green. Corsages of white carnations centered with red rosebuds were presented to the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. E. Sexton, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. H. N. Kerr. Guests present were Mrs. H. George, Mrs. J. V. Barnes, Mrs. J. Unwin, Mrs. C. Williams, Mrs. I. Craigie, Mrs. M. Johnson, Mrs. R. Oswald, Mrs. I. Ainscough, Mrs. J. Whitwell, Mrs. F. Cammle, Mrs. W. Martin, Mrs. J. Burbridge, Mrs. W. Ballantyne, Mrs. R. G. Straith, Mrs. R. Jones, Mrs. R. Cartwright, Mrs. H. Simpson and Miss Joan Kerr.

DIOR SHOWS FOR AUTUMN

LONDON (Reuters)—Christian Dior brought shades of autumn to London Thursday with all the colors of brightly burning coal fire.

His collection was based on black, toned to smoke, slate and indigo, and warmed with glowing reds.

There were many unpressed hems and pleats. The unpressed look ran through the show, giving a rounded shape to the clothes.

Belts on many coats and suits were low down on the hips in continuation of the "back-to-the-20s" line.

To Convene Garden Fete

Mrs. E. Hansen was named convener of the annual garden party in the grounds of Gorge Road Hospital, June 19, at a recent meeting of the hospital auxiliary. Assisting her with plans for the party were Mrs. F. Campbell, Mrs. T. Potter and Mrs. W. Beutelspacher.

The S. J. Willis Junior High School Band, directed by Howard Denike, will be in attendance, and Mrs. H. Mellish, of Heatherbelle Kennels will present a program of performing dogs.

There will be stalls of sewing, home cooking, jewelry, cookies, candy, white elephant articles, plants, toys and hand lotion.

This Saturday, the auxiliary will hold a tag day in Victoria and Oak Bay. In charge of arrangements are Miss Verna Beck, Mrs. C. C. Warren and Mrs. C. Aiken. Anyone who could assist in tagging for an hour is asked to call Mrs. C. Douglas, 5-5072.

President, Miss Beck, and Mrs. T. Potter, officiated at the induction of two new members, Mrs. M. Curtis and Mrs. A. Owen.

Mrs. F. Campbell reported that proceeds from the spring tea amounted to $180. Mrs. A. Hamilton announced that 100 new articles have been sewn for the hospital. It was agreed to purchase two electric shavers for use of the patients.

Mission Schools Need Teachers

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. C. Maxwell Loveys of Toronto told the United Church of Canada Women's Missionary Society Wednesday that the church serves 22,100 Indians in 43 schools.

Mrs. Loveys, who is executive secretary of the home mission, told the group's 31st annual meeting that 146 teachers work in these schools.

"There are 12 teachers needed," she added, "and we have only two to recommend."

Connected with the work among Indians, two new hospitals, in which the WMS is co-operating with municipalities and government, are to be built at Cold Lake, Alta., and Burns Lake, B.C.

Mrs. Loveys said the board of home missions receives requests from communities for women workers.

"We could place about 25 people," she said, "including the Indian school teachers."

Serve tomato aspic moulds in crisp lettuce cups as a colorful addition to a main course salad. To separate a head of lettuce into cups, cut out the core with the point of a sharp knife, then hold the open end of the lettuce under cold running water until the leaves are forced apart.

Apricot-lemon salad is light and airy, and should brighten any family menu when warm days begin to dull appetites.

Light, Refreshing Salads For Those Summertime Menus

Warm days turn our thoughts to light and airy chiffon fruit salads. We think these two brighten your family menus.

APRICOT-LEMON SALAD

One cup canned apricot syrup (or apricot syrup and water), one 3-ounce package lemon-flavored gelatin, 2½ cups canned apricot halves (one 1-pound 13-ounce can, drained), ½ cup chopped cucumber, ½ cup chopped pecans, ½ cup mayonnaise, 2½ cups whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals.

Heat syrup to boiling point. Add gelatin; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until thickened. Arrange 8 apricot halves in bottom of 1½-quart mold. Add remaining apricot halves. Add chopped cucumbers, cucumber, pecans and mayonnaise to gelatin mixture. Blend. Mix with whipped instant crystals. Spoon into salad mold. Chill until firm (about 3 hours). Unmold. (8 servings.)

BING CHERRY SALAD

One cup canned Bing cherry syrup (or cherry syrup and water), one 3-ounce package orange-flavored gelatin, 2½ cups canned pitted Bing cherries (one 1-pound 13-ounce can, drained), ½ cup chopped walnuts, ½ cup mayonnaise, 2½ cups whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals.

Heat syrup to boiling point. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until thickened. Chop cherries. Add cherries, walnuts and mayonnaise to gelatin mixture. Blend. Mix with whipped instant crystals. Spoon into 1½-quart mold. Chill until firm (about 3 hours). Unmold. Garnish with crisp salad greens, as desired.

To whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals (makes about 2½ cups):

U.K. Tories Suffer By-Election Jolts

LONDON (Reuters) — Opposition Labor party politicians today hailed three sharp jolts to the ruling Conservative party's popularity delivered in the last two days by parliamentary by-elections.

The setbacks came in votes in South Edinburgh Wednesday and in two industrial-residential London suburbs Thursday.

In the Edinburgh contest and in the North London suburb of Hornsey, former government majorities of more than 12,000 votes were slashed to 4,640 and 3,131 respectively, reducing these one-time Conservative strongholds almost to the status of marginal seats.

BLAME HIGH PRICES

And in the London East End suburb of East Ham North, the Labor party, defending its seat against a Conservative and two independent challengers, slightly increased its majority.

The Conservative share of the total East Ham vote fell by 11 per cent compared with the 1955 general election.

Labor spokesmen say the Conservative setbacks resulted partly from dissatisfaction with the government over last fall's Suez crisis, but mainly from discontent at the continued rise in the cost of living.

The results of the last two days followed the pattern of a string of by-elections earlier this spring in which the government lost one parliamentary seat to Labor and slumped badly in its share of the total polls elsewhere.

200 Lawyers Here July 4

More than 200 B.C. lawyers are expected to attend joint annual meetings of the Law Society of British Columbia and the B.C. section, Canadian Bar Association, in the Empress Hotel July 4 and 5.

Reports will be presented and considered for presentation to the Canadian Bar at Banff, Alta., in September.

A joint dinner July 4 will be addressed by Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson. Stuart Keate, publisher of the Times, will address a luncheon on the second day.

The meeting will conclude with a garden party Friday on the lawn of Government House. There will be a golf tournament at Oak Bay Saturday morning.

$10 Fine for Assault

Ralph Emeny, 555 Dupplin, was fined $10 in Saanich police court Thursday when found guilty of assaulting Cabel Singh, a neighbor of the same address.

Offence occurred May 20 at about 3:15 p.m. when Emeny and Cabel engaged in an argument over which tenant would cut the grass. Other domestic situations entered the argument and blows were struck.

84-Year-Old Twins Like Victoria But Only 1 Would Leave Ontario

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Two of the spriest old ladies in the world, with a grand total of 168 birthdays between them, are now visiting Victoria from their home in Port Dover, Norfolk County, Ontario.

They are twins—slim, neat and cheerful—and at 84 years of age they look as if they were good for another 20.

"This is our first trip West and we're enjoying every minute of it," says Mrs. George McIntosh and Mrs. C. M. McBride.

Remarkably, neither of the twins wears glasses or has any intention of wearing them.

They were born at Vittoria in Norfolk County, the daughters of Dr. Walter McInnes, and have lived there all their lives.

"Our grandfather came out to Ontario from Scotland and next to Ontario we think of Scotland as our home," Mrs. McBride said.

Mrs. McBride, incidentally, would like to live in Victoria, but Mrs. McIntosh is a stout patriot.

"This is a lovely city," she said, "but I prefer the north country. I was born in Ontario and I'll lay my bones there. Its the finest in the world."

Edith and Eva — their christian names — are fast becoming familiar figures around Victoria. They are seen peering in store windows, walking the sunny pavements or embarking for sightseeing tours. The Grey Line people took them out to Butchart's Gardens Wednesday and they were enchanted.

PROGRESS REPORT BY TCA

By 1961, all 4-engine
...all turbine fleet
to bring you new
speed and comfort

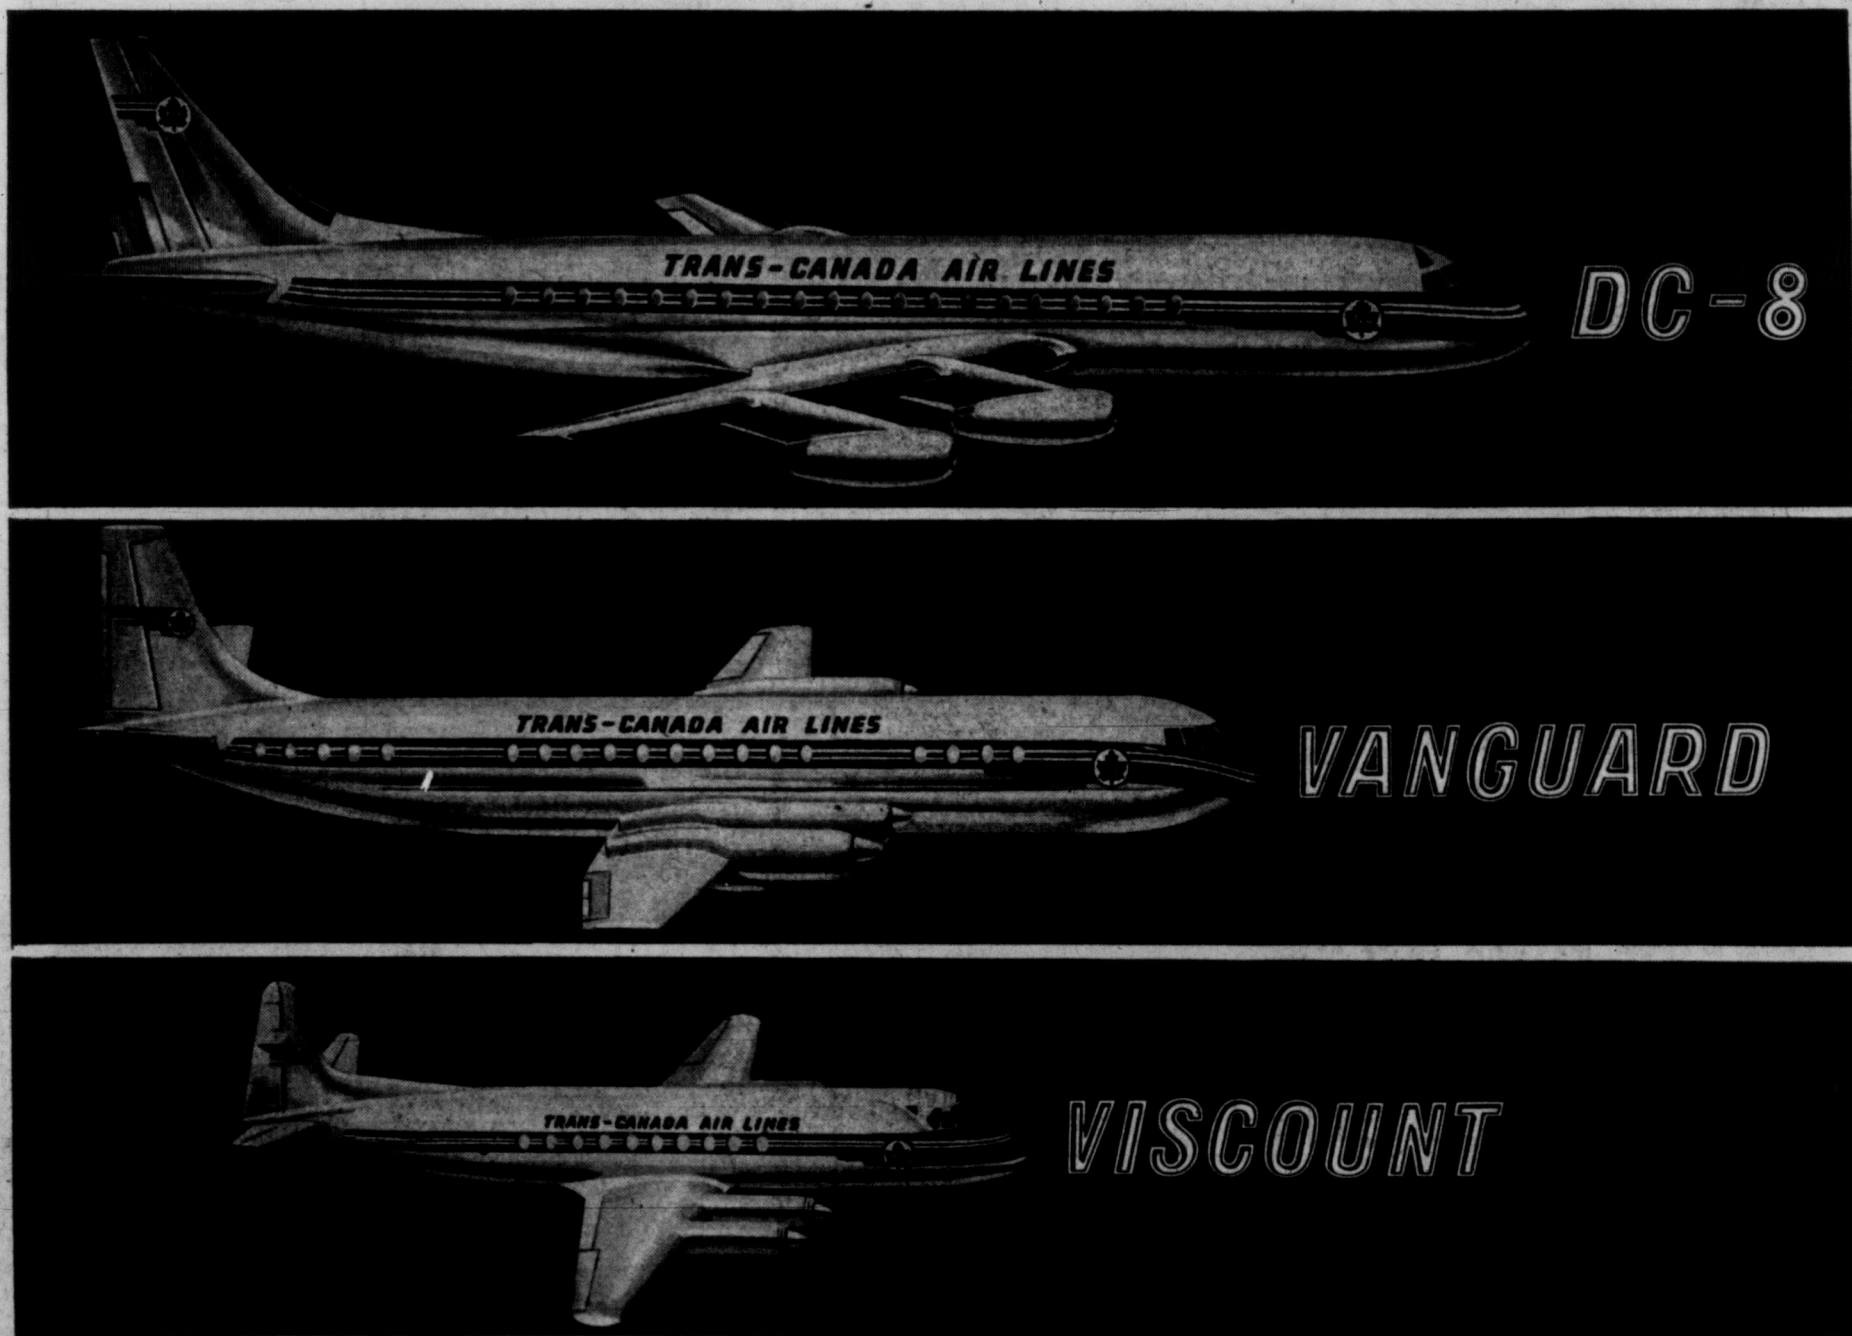

The next few years will mark a revolutionary advance in air transportation. Present piston-engined types will be replaced by propeller-turbine and jet airliners. TCA, in the front rank of world airlines, will become the first intercontinental airline in the world to operate an all-turbine fleet.

The remodelling of the TCA fleet has already begun. In 1955, TCA introduced the now famous Viscount, and became the first airline in North America to fly turbo-prop aircraft.

An order has been placed for 20 Vickers Vanguard airliners, powered by Rolls-Royce Tyne turbo-prop engines. Seating up to 102 passengers and flying at 420 miles per hour, the Vanguard will serve TCA's high-density inter-city and Southern routes. The Viscount, likely to be the best short-range aircraft for many years, will continue to serve short-stage routes.

Giant Douglas DC8 jetliners will round out TCA's re-equipment programme. Cruising at 550 miles per hour, carrying up to 120 passengers, they will cut flying times on trans-Continental and trans-Atlantic services by almost half.

The composition of this future fleet has been determined after years of exhaustive study and evaluation. It represents a balanced combination of aircraft best able to fulfill TCA's particular route requirements.

Three fine aircraft...each ahead in its field

In the Vanguard and Viscount, advantage will be taken of the superior operating qualities of turbo-prop aircraft over medium and short distances. The turbo-jet DC8, with its higher speed, will realize its full potential on TCA's long distance routes.

MONEY MAY NOT BUY HAPPINESS—but it goes a long way towards buying health for some 42 young patients at the Queen Alexandra Solarium for crippled children. Proof of this is Ken, 10-year-old from Kamloops, "nearly well" after a bout with Legge-Perthe's disease, and little Rhys, three, of Victoria, almost recovered from an allergy condition. They, and others, will profit from the Solarium Junior League's "Shower of Dimes" June 3—a one-hour canvass of Greater Victoria starting at 6 p.m. The junior league hopes to raise $25,000 in the annual blitz. ## BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

Victoria District Notes—Sidney pack held an outdoor "jungle animal hunt" in the bush at Ardmore Wednesday evening. Akela Winnie Bennett and Scoutmaster Harry Parkinson were in charge of the events and payment for the greatest number of "animals caught" was in the form of a candy treat.

Tillamook "B" Pack—District Cubmaster Phyllis Sheffield paid her pack a visit on Wednesday evening. On Saturday the two packs are holding their 20th birthday party at Elk Lake. During the evening Edward Life was invested as a Wolf Cub by Akela Mary Smith. Rickie Life received his first star. Badges were presented to Gerald Vardett, swimmers; Jim Arnold, artist; John Corbitt, collectors; toymakers' badges to Wayne Monnet, Stephen Bone, John Cockell, Lorne Adams, Daryl Thom and Randy Walker.

Parkdale Pack—Scouter George Sommer was presented with his district training card by the district commissioner, Miss Phyllis Sheffield, at the regular meeting Wednesday. Tests were run off in the form of a game of "hot-potato."

Windsor Park Troop—Scouter Paul Sondergaard, a Scouter from Denmark, gave the Scouts a talk on camping and the types of equipment to use on hiking and camping trips. Scouter Paul has been in Scouts since 1934 and has attended two World Jamborees.

The troop will attend the camp being held at Metcheson over the weekend. Last weekend preparatory work was done. David Field has been awarded his electrician and chemist badges and hopes to obtain his red-card before leaving for the World Jamboree this summer.

Scout troops of the western area will put on displays of camping and woodcraft next weekend at the camp site on Kangaroo Road, Metcheson. Displays will feature an aerial runway, monkey bridge, tree houses, camp cooking and camping gadgets. Those taking part will be Metcheson, Sooke, Laxton, Langford, Belmont Park and Windsor Park troops.

Scouts hiking and camping in the bush these days are asked to be more than careful; the forest is very dry and a fire could easily start. Make sure your cooking fire

SCOUT LEADER—Eli Boyaner of Saint John, N.B., will head Canadian contingents to the Boy Scout Jubilee Jamboree in England next August and the Fourth National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America at Valley Forge, Penn., in July. Mr. Boyaner is provincial scout commissioner for New Brunswick and a member of the International Scout Committee. Some 1,500 Canadian Scouts and leaders will attend the international jamboree and 350 are slated to attend the U.S. jamboree. (CP Photo.)

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then Ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who search the questions he selects to answer will receive instructive prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia. Candidates' editions and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Larry Neber, age 8, of La Jolla, Calif., for his question:

What makes people able to talk?

Feel around the front of your throat gently with your fingers. You will find a roundish lump. Now speak a few words and sing some high notes and low notes. You can feel the round lump move up and down. This is your voice box where most of your speaking and singing is made. The proper name for it is the larynx. The neck is a very important part of the body. It holds some large blood vessels, a pipe that carries your food to the stomach and a pipe that carries the air to and from your lungs. Most of these parts work together when you speak or sing. In the back of the neck is the top of the backbone and the body nerves which lead to the brain. But these are sealed off from the parts in front which help make the voice.

The food pipe and the air pipe both end inside your throat. As you know you cannot use them both at once. There are muscles which close off the air pipe when you swallow. Otherwise the food gets stuck in the wrong place. Speaking is done with the air pipe and the voice box. It is done as you breathe. The nose and mouth play a part in breathing so they also play a part in speaking. Now speak a few more words and notice how your voice ties in with your breathing. Do you speak when you breathe in, when you breathe out or when you hold your breath? Your voice will work only while you are breathing out. In fact, you have to stop talking when you run out of breath.

The larynx and the other solid parts that make the voice are worked by the air you breathe it out from the lungs. The voice box is made of bands of strong gristle. Stretching across inside it from back to front are two tough strings called the vocal cords. There are muscles to move the vocal cords and make them act like violin strings.

The string on a musical instrument makes noise because a stroke or a twang sets it vibrating, or throbbing. The vocal cords work in the same way. The rush of air as you breathe out sets them twanging. Delicate muscles know how to move the vocal cords so they can make high sounds, low sounds and in between sounds. For high sounds, the vocal cords are held tight across the voice box. For low sounds they are held less tight. When you are not breathing, the vocal cords are relaxed. They are held apart so that the air passes easily between them as you breathe.

The voice begins down in the voice box. But the speaking and singing made down there is not nearly loud or clear enough for everyday use. To make itself heard, the voice uses a megaphone. And naturally you have this sound-enlarging system built right into your head.

Sound is enlarged when it flows into caves and cavities. What it does is to bounce off the walls and double itself with echoes. The caves and cavities which enlarge your voice are in your mouth. Here also are muscles which move the sound around and alter it. The tongue itself is a strong muscle. As you talk, notice how the tongue moves against the soft back and the hard front of your mouth to form different words. The jaws also open and close and certain sounds are made with the lips. Countless complex little muscles work together to speak a single sentence. We decide what to say and the details are carried out by our wonderful bodies without further instructions.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Phil Stoup, age 12, of Dallas, Texas, for his question:

Do Horn Toads Really Spit Blood from Their Eyes?

Certain toads give off a poison strong enough to harm a dog. But no genuine toad spits blood from his eye. This cute trick is performed by the horned toad who is not really a toad at all. He is not even a member of the great amphibian class to which all true toads belong. The horned toad is a lizard.

This fellow has a flat, toad-like body and he likes to squat toad fashion on the ground. His various cousins enjoy life on the desert prairies and plateaus. Each is colored to match the ground on which he squats. And the horned lizard hates to be disturbed. This is when he pulls his trick of squirting blood from his eye. It seems that only certain horned lizards know how to squirt blood. Once in awhile you pick up one and whom! A small jet of red blood is sprayed onto your clothes. Chances are that he won't squirt again for some time. He may squirt out of either eye or once in a great while from both eyes. A skillful horned lizard can squirt a jet of blood eight feet.

Importance of physical training to Navy League cadets—junior corps at RSCC Rainbow—was stressed by Cmdr. D. L. MacKnight, RCN, when he made the unit's annual inspection.

"Play every game you can. I cannot stress too highly the importance of physical fitness," Cmdr. MacKnight said.

"I am most impressed with the high morale and calibre of the cadets," he said, adding that although the RCN has no direct affiliation with them, the service is interested and considers the training worthwhile.

He hoped the many would continue training when older in RSCC Rainbow and perhaps eventually join the navy.

Cmdr. MacKnight presented two awards for 100 per cent attendance to AB Peter Reid and AB William Hodgson.

Chief PO I. U. Reid received the general proficiency award from Mrs. J. L. Muirhead, president of Women's Auxiliary to the Navy League, donor of the prize.

Musketry instructor Capt. W. Brown presented the Clarke efficiency trophy for training to LS E. Francis on behalf of its donor, who is serving with external affairs in Warsaw.

Denis Brown, president of Victoria branch of the Navy League, welcomed visitors to the inspection and asked for assistance in making the training possible.

5,000 Students Riot At U.S. University

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — More than 5,000 University of Illinois students staged a campus-wide riot that was quelled Thursday night after eight hours by more than 200 police officers who fired at least 150 volleys of tear-gas bombs.

At least two co-eds were injured. About 30 students were arrested and appeared in court today. They were later freed on $300 bond, one student pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

Students used waste baskets as water jugs in the jumbo water battle that apparently got its start as a friendly water-fight between two neighboring fraternity houses. As the fight spread, some students appeared dressed in bathing suits.

The outbreak came on a campus off-day, because of the United States Memorial Day holiday. Final examinations began Wednesday and were to be resumed today. The university has some 25,000 students.

Some students will face more than final examinations. Dr. David Dodds Henry, university president, said "every-one involved will be taken before the disciplinary committee," with expulsion probably in prospect for some of them.

HE'S NO LONGER 'BLACK STRANGER'

Pickersgill Wins 'Newfies'

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Immigration Minister Pickersgill came here a "black stranger" to run in Bonaville-Twillingate four years ago. Premier Smallwood said Thursday night, but in this election he hasn't a chance of losing.

Newfoundlanders had been dubious about voting for a mainlander. Mr. Smallwood said, and "they couldn't really believe a man would have Pickersgill for a name." A crowd of 800 greeted Mr. Pickersgill with a lusty rendition of Jack Is Every Inch a Sailor, a Newfoundland folk song.

Mr. Smallwood was introducing the immigration minister to a Liberal rally. Mr. Pickersgill accompanied Prime Minister St. Laurent on a one-day flying visit to the province.

Mother Found With Daughter Dead 2 Months

year-old woman was found Thursday night sitting at the bedside of her long-dead 38-year-old daughter. Police said the mother was talking to the body.

Authorities were summoned to the run-down Bronx home of the mother, Mrs. Wilhelmina Koehler, by a grocer who had been trying to collect a food bill. The grocer said he was not allowed inside but became suspicious of an odor coming from her dwelling.

Found clad in night clothes was the body of Mrs. Lillian K.
Elliot. Authorities said she had been dead two months.

Mrs. Elliot had been estranged from her husband, Mrs. Koehler's

Trial Ordered For Sooke Man On Arson Charge

A Sooke man, Stephen Gregory
Ward, 19, was committed for trial on a charge of arson following a preliminary hearing in RCMP court before Magistrate A. I.
Thomas.

The charge arose out of the burning of a barn owned by Geoffrey Vantreigh. It occurred April 29, just a short way from Sooke Community Hall, where the first annual firemen's ball of Sooke Volunteer Fire Department was in progress.

Charged with Ward was Rudolph Arthur Vowles, 23, also of Sooke.
He will appear in RCMP court
Monday at 9 a.m.

HATS OFF! NINA TO GET ANOTHER TRIP

MOSCOW (AP)—Nina Pono-mareva, of hat fame, may get another trip to London.

Soviet sports officials said
Thursday the athletic meet with British teams, which was cancelled last year after discus hurler Nina was arrested in London, has been rescheduled for
Aug. 22-24.

Nina was accused of walking out of a store with a collection of cheap hats for which she did not pay.

Soviet officials said team selections have not yet been made but, that Nina, on the basis of her recent discus performances, is likely to be included.

1,800 Go Blind Every Year, Says CNIB Man

CHEMAMINUS—Work being done by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in helping to rehabilitate blind Canadians of all ages was described to members of the Rotary Club by Don McLaren, field representative for the CNIB.

Mr. McLaren, who lost his sight at the age of 17, received his BA at the University of Manitoba and his MA at the University of Toronto. He told Rotarians he was a relatively new member of the organization, having only recently completed a six-month training course at national CNIB headquarters in Toronto.

The CNIB he said, is dedicated to helping blind Canadians and the community at large. About 22,000 Canadians are being assisted by the organization. Blindness in Canada is on the increase, he said, and is occurring at the rate of 1,800
new cases every year.

Because of their own handicap, the blind CNIB workers enjoy a sense of material purpose and teamwork.

His own particular job includes public relations and liaison work and co-ordinating the efforts of

MEET OTHERS

He said the procedure in helping rehabilitate cases includes home teacher training and eventual job placement.

"The first and most important step is to get the person who has gone blind to meet other blind people. They soon realize that we are not really bad sorts and fairly human. Then we help them understand that they too can lead useful, happy lives," he said.

Support given by service groups is one reason why the CNIB is increasing its services and doing a better job.

"You people, the members of your community, give us encouragement to do our job by supporting our campaigns. The work, and the story of the CNIB is really not our story. It's yours," he said.

Mr. McLaren was accompanied to Chemainus by Percy Ogilvie, assistant superintendent of the CNIB in Vancouver, and Donald MacDonald.

Live Bomb Found In Bronx Theatre

NEW YORK (AP)—A live bomb, with a fuse which had been lighted but fizzled out, was found Thursday night in the men's washroom of a Bronx theatre, Horace Reddick, a porter, found the device in a paper towel receptacle of the room, in the basement of the RKO Chester Theatre. He rushed it to an adjoining vacant lot and called police. Some 1,000 patrons watched a film, unaware of what was happening.

New Support For Tent Is. Park Proposal

CHEMAMINUS—Rod and Gun Club will support the Chem-ainus and Duncan-Cowichan Chambers of Commerce in their bid to have Tent Island, near Chemainus, set aside as a park area.

Jack Gallagher told the game meeting that the island, although Indian land, is widely used by fishermen, campers and visiting yachtsmen. He said it would make a popular park area. H. W. Swales said he opposes the growing trend of confiscating Indian land.

The club inform B.C. Forest Service it favors full development of Tent Island for public recreation.

Tickets for the club's annual salmon derby will be on sale soon. The derby will be held on Aug. 25, and first prize will be a 14-foot boat and 7½-h.p.
outboard, valued at $700.

Don Anderson reported work parties would be held at Wheddie's Lake to finish the catwalk out to the fishing float and to clear a small boat launching site.

Compensation Paid Construction Firm For Wharf Delays

The provincial government has granted a construction firm half the amount of compensation it claimed for delays in construction of ferry landings at Swartz Bay and Fulford Harbor.

James McDonald Construction
Co. Ltd. (now Eakins Construction Ltd.) was awarded a contract by the department of highways in 1953 to build the wharves.

Under the contract, the department of highways was to furnish some of the materials.

The firm claimed delays in delivery by the department caused work stoppages on the project.

It asked for $24,000 as compensation for increased costs.

Without admitting any liability, the government today approved by order-in-council a payment of $11,776 to the company.

Car Theft Boost Blamed by Police On Boys' School

NANAIMO—Car theft is a fairly common occurrence here, especially since establishment of Brandon Lake School, Const. Colin Smith, RCMP, told Hub City Kiwanis Club this week.

He was speaking on the new Motor Vehicle Act, which makes leaving keys in the ignition of an automobile an offence.

Pentecostal Pastor Honored at Chemainus

CHEMAMINUS—Before their departure for the Interior, Pastor and Mrs. L. A. Pennoyer were honored by friends and members of the congregation of the Pentecostal Tabernacle.

Mrs. Norman Patterson expressed the regret of the congregation at losing the services of Pastor Pennoyer and, on behalf of the church workers, presented him with a gift of money.

Dulles Holidays

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—
State Secretary Dulles is spending the weekend at his summer home on Main Duck Island in Lake Ontario. Dulles and his wife left here from Washington Wednesday afternoon. They plan to return early next week.

ISLAND DIGEST 30 Victoria Daily Times FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1957 Fund Drive June 3-8 For Deep Cove Park

SIDNEY—Deep Cove Centen- nial Committee will stage a drive for funds June 3-8 to pay for the seven-acre park site be- tween Birch Road and Wains Road, chosen by majority vote as the district's permanent cen- tennial project.

A special price of $2,000 was quoted to the committee by the owners. About $700 will come from the provincial government, and $200 has been subscribed by residents. The drive will attempt to raise the $1,100 balance.

Cannavers will call at every home in Deep Cove, Swartz Bay and Patricia Bay, which constitute the area served by Deep Cove Recreation Commission.
The commission will run the park.

SPEED-UP FOR PRIMARY SCHOOL PUPILS

LADYSMITH (CP)—Bright pupils will be encouraged to cover the first three grades in primary school in two years at Ladysmith and Chemainus schools.

The new "acceleration group" system was suggested by chief education officer J. J. McKenzie and approved by the board.

He explained that selected pupils are given the scholastic boost but the education department will not allow a pupil to gain more than one year in six.

July Start Set On Saltair Water System

LADYSMITH—Saltair Water Board is making arrangements to break ground early in July for construction of its new water system.

First work will be done at Stocking Lake reservoir, and by September it is expected construction will be under way in the central area of Saltair.

Ladysmith ratepayers voted May 24 to share part of its water system with the Saltair board. Total cost of the project to Saltair will be $210,000.

POWER BOARD OFFICIAL SAYS: Development of B.C. Hydro No Guarantee of Lower Cost

SMITHERS, B.C. (CP)—Development of British Columbia's vast hydro resources may not immediately lower the average price of electric energy available to consumers, Charles W. Nash, director of load development for the B.C. Power Commission, told the Smithers Rotary Club.

"But any commodity or service which has remained nearly static in price over the last decade may be considered as having a downward trend when compared to prices generally," he added. "I think it is in that light that we should view the week."

How much money are you going to make out of B.C.'s growth?

A master plan to harvest B.C.'s mineral wealth and advance her industrial growth on a scale never before visualized is now being mapped out.
It calls for the investment of billions of dollars within the next quarter-century—and if you have foresight to invest in the province NOW you stand to gain a big share of the profits.

British Columbia is one of North America's last great reserves of natural wealth—an area larger than Texas—mighty in industrial potential than any other region on the continent. And it's growing at a rate second only to California.

Let Belfast Investments show you how you can SHARE and PROFIT in this tremendous growth. We constantly evaluate the latest market moves and are in a position to keep you up-to-date on any
B.C. investment opportunity.

Women Fans Almost in Hair-Pulling Fray After Speech in Manitoba by CCF Leader

BEASEJOUR, Man. (BUP)—Female supporters of the Social Credit, CCF and Liberal parties almost got into a hair-pulling contest at the close of CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell's campaign speech here.

The participants were Mrs. Marie Sinnott, wife of former Liberal member John Sinnott, who is now campaigning for CCFer Jake Schultz in the Springfield riding; Mrs. Caroline Golembroski, of the Social Credit party, and Mrs. Hugo Shaffroff of the Liberals.

The last-named's ire was raised when she was left standing with her second question to Coldwell unasked when the meeting was adjourned.

Mrs. Golembroski was ranked when the partisan crowd booed and catcalled when she rose to ask a question.

After the meeting, Mrs. Sinnott recaptured the roses she had presented Coldwell and was leaving the hall when Mrs. Shaffroff asked her how she was voting.

Mrs. Sinnott used a few hundred well-placed words to say that this was a personal matter. Mrs. Golembroski then joined the heated debate and verbal blasts exploded left and right.

The hassle, which appeared to delight everyone within earshot, lasted more than half an hour.

POURED IN—Well, not exactly. The dress was "poured over" screen actress Jean Wallace for her role in "The Devil's Hairpin." The dress was slipped into a mold of Jean's body, sprayed with a "steam gun" and later slipped onto Jean. Even Jean said, "Wow!" (NEA.)

Airliner Flips Over, Drops 13,000 Feet

BOSTON (AP)—Officials disclosed Thursday that a Swissair DC-7C transport bound from New York to Bonn-Cologne, Germany, suddenly flipped over on its back and dropped 13,000 feet before it could be righted.

One of the 52 passengers and before the plane made an emergency landing here May 23.

The passengers continued on their way the next day.

Officials said the plane was 150 miles east of Nantucket when one of the four engines malfunctioned. Capt. Armin Bomer of Zurich, the pilot, tried to feather the propeller. Instead it reversed, causing the plane to veer sharply and go into a dive. It was flying upside down in seconds.

Passengers were held in their seats by their belts, warned by signal, as Bomer wrestled with the controls.

The craft dropped from 22,000 to 9,000 feet before Bomer could right it. He radioed the U.S. Coast Guard which sent planes to escort the troubled plane to Boston.

COLORFUL START OF GRUELLING OCEAN YACHT CLASSIC

Closely bunched seconds after start of Swiftsure ocean race at 9.30 a.m. today, 18 of 25 entries clawed across line off Brothie Ledge with little to choose between them. Seventeen chose starboard

tack at start: "loner" on port tack (foreground) is Totem, which came about and headed for U.S. with other entries immediately after aerial photo by Times photographer Bill Halkett was taken.

Algerian Rebels Massacre Moslems

ALGIERS (Reuters)—Algerian insurgents massacred 301 Moslem males over the age of 15 in a blood raid on La Casbah, a tiny village in rugged mountains near Setif, according to reports reaching here today.

NEW FIGHTING IN TUNISIA

TUNIS (AP)—French troops and members of the Tunisian National Guard clashed on Tunisian territory today. First reports said there were several killed and wounded. The fighting occurred near Souk-el-Araba where there is a camp for Algerian refugees, who the Tunisians claim have been flooding across the border during the last few days.

U.K. Explodes Second H-Bomb

Dr. Chisholm Supports Ban

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Dr. Brock Chisholm of Victoria, former head of the world health organization, says 50,000 persons throughout the world will die as a result of every nuclear bomb test. Dr. Chisholm said Thursday in an interview here the effects of radiation from the bomb tests are not immediate. He said they usually take the form of leukemia (cancer of the blood). Dr. Chisholm said he is in hearty agreement with those in all nations who are working to have the bomb tests halted.

First news of the slaughter came when an observation plane reported fires blazing in the village in almost inaccessible mountains in eastern Algeria.

Troops making their way through the difficult mountains were met by the stench of death as they approached La Casbah, a village of 1,000 inhabitants.

PILE BODIES ON STREET

They found corpses piled in the streets, and women hysterical with fear. The dead had been shot or had their throats cut. The bodies of 15 men killed by machine-gun fire were found in one house alone, the reports said.

French authorities said they did not know the reason for the massacre, but speculated that it was another bloody chapter in the rivalry between the two big Algerian nationalist groups, the Algerian Nationalist Movement (MNA) and the National Liberation Front (FLN).

The village also was on the main mountain route the rebels use in moving from the Constantine area to the Algiers area. There was speculation that the attackers might have felt the villagers were betraying their movements.

MEXICAN STUDENTS IN MOB RIOT

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Juarez officials sought help from the Mexican army today in the wake of a riot of hundreds of Juarez Agricultural College students who barricaded streets, wrecked automobiles and attacked a residence with bricks and stones. The school has been strike-bound for 27 days as 1,300 students have refused to return to classes.

U.K. TO RELAX TRADE EMBARGO WITH N. KOREA

LONDON (Reuters)—A Board of Trade spokesman said today Britain will automatically relax her trade embargo with North Korea under the easing of trade controls with Communist China. The list of goods banned for export to China covered North Korea. Relaxation of the embargo also affects exports to North Viet Nam, Tibet and Macao.

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's cabinet warned today that Britain's break with the United States on China trade threatens free world co-operation. It offered to help mediate the question.

Wing Commander Killed in Germany

OTTAWA (CP)—Wing Cmdr. until 1945, when he was transferred to the west coast. His wife lives in Zweibruecken.

Herbert Collier Stewart, a native of Calgary, was killed today when his Sabre jet crashed while landing in Germany. He was officer commanding 434 Squadron with the RCAF's No. 3 Fighter Wing at Zweibruecken.

Air Force headquarters said no further details were immediately available. Wing Cmdr. Stewart, 38, was awarded the Air Force Cross in 1945. He was a fighter pilot for two years during the Second World War.

The crash was the second fatal one in as many days. FO O. H. Levere, 34, of Cloyne, Ont., was killed Thursday when his jet trainer crashed 15 miles from base.

TO RCAF IN 1940 Wing Cmdr. Stewart graduated from Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont. He joined the RCAF in 1940. He was chief flying instructor at Greenwood, N.S., from 1943 Saturday in the final.

'Candy' Set Doggonedest Clip Until Spotted, Trapped, Caught

NEW YORK (UP)—Foggyturze Sugar Baby, $5,000 worth of speedy Bedlington terrier, was back in the world of veterinarians and dog shows today. Her Houston, Tex., owner hoped she had had enough of the wild life. The champion dog who escaped from handlers a week ago at New York's Idlewild airport was recaptured Thursday by Vitautes Rapp, a Trans World Airlines employee. He got $500 for his efforts from a mighty relieved Virden W. Wilson of Houston, the dog's owner.

Foggyturze, who prefers to be called Candy, took off for the wild marshes of Long Island's south shore shortly after she arrived from England on her way to Houston. Since a good Bedlington can keep up with a jackrabbit, and

Russ Blast Dampens Arms Talks

LONDON (UP)—Soviet Russia today renewed its blasts against U.S. disarmament delegate Harold Stassen and U.S. West German plans for reunifying Germany, almost killing hopes for early agreement in the London disarmament talks.

The talks themselves were postponed until Monday so Stassen could fill in western delegates on NATO's "warm approval" of his still secret proposals for a first step in disarming.

Soviet press and radio pounded at the Tuesday communiqué announcing the decision of President Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that German reunification must precede a full disarmament agreement.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said hopes the UN disarmament subcommittee "would do some constructive work have been unfulfilled."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our Father and our God: In Thee we would find quietness, strength, and hope. Reach into our disturbed minds with the sure ministry of Thy truth. Give us the conscience and the desire to separate right from wrong. Support us with the heaven born courage to live by the things that endure; through Christ. Amen.

Maruffa Leads Swiftsure Race

Brisk Wind Stirs Hopes for Record

At 1.30 p.m. the Maruffa was still in the lead. Her position was directly off Otter Point and she was followed very closely by Cotton Blossom and Sea Fever.

By MONTE ROBERTS

Yachtsmen sniffed the breeze off Brothie Ledge this morning, cast a weather eye at the wispy horse-tail clouds overhead, and smelled the possibility of the fastest Swiftsure ocean race on record.

The 9.30 a.m. start was kicked off by a brisk, southwest wind touching the 25 mile per hour mark; indications were for strong westerlies this afternoon; and hopes of the 25 skippers entered hung on winds brisk enough to help them beat up Juan de Fuca Strait against a strong flood tide.

Veteran observers rated the start as one of the best in the history of the 136-mile race from Victoria's waterfront to Swiftsure Lightship and return. The entries were closely bunched at the starting gun. Most had at least one reef in their mainsails as they laid away from the southwest wind, heading toward Port Angeles on the starboard tack, to gain sea room for the zig-zag course they would need to clear Race Rocks.

All skippers fought to weather the adverse currents around Race Rocks during the slack tide period prior to noon today, and by that time at least five boats had made it. From noon until about 4 a.m. Saturday, it will be a fight to use whatever wind is blowing to combat a strong incoming tide.

First to beat their way through the Race, at 11.30 a.m., were Maruffa (first boat home in 1956), Mary Bower, Cotton Blossom, Adios (1956 over-all winner), and Diamond Head (formerly Apache).

All five sneaked inside Race Passage to save valuable mileage and time. Another group of three were fighting through the Race at noon, all strong contenders. They were Dorade, Nautilus and Sea Fever.

They were followed by Delphin, Karen IV, Alalota, Kate II, and Lenore. The rest of the fleet was eastward of Race Rocks.

Crews Facing Tough Battle

Weatherman Bill Mackie introduced a somewhat pessimistic note on wind force with a forecast that winds will decrease as the competing yachts sail westward. There is a possibility they will be becalmed during the night.

But breezes will pick up Saturday, he said, and the chances are the boats will have a brisk downwind run home.

Some yachtsmen hope for a 26-hour elapsed time on the race, which would bring the leading yacht home into the Inner Harbor by noon Saturday for an all-time record.

The race is considered the toughest of all yachting events in North American waters. In addition to rough seas and almost-unpredictable winds, the skippers and crew battle vicious tide rips, possible fog, and stomach-rolling swells.

The current issue of Sports Illustrated calls the race "mile for mile, the roughest race of all."

RCN Jet Explodes

HALIFAX (BUP)—A Royal Canadian Navy Banshee twin-jet fighter aircraft exploded in the air today above Macnabs Island, Halifax harbor. There is no word on fate of the pilot, but helicopters and harbor craft went to search the area.

CONVICTED

Arthur Miller, playwright husband of actress Marilyn Monroe, was convicted today of contempt of Congress. Miller was not in court when the decision was released. No time was fixed for his sentencing.

USAF Car Kills Communist Guerilla Chief

ATHENS (UP)—An American Air Force car today knocked down and killed General Stefanos Sarafis, war-time commander of the Communist guerrilla army "Elas," and Greek authorities immediately imposed strict security measures. Sarafis was killed in a suburb of Athens and his English wife was seriously injured. The American driver of the car, identified by the United States Information Service as Marqom Mousalli, was immediately placed under arrest.

PROP-WASH TOMMY GROUNDED

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP)—Prop-wash, Tommy has taken his last plane ride.

A blue pigeon with white wings, Tommy amazed everyone by meeting incoming planes on the runway and riding on a wing or the tail as they taxied in. He perched on departing planes until the aircraft's gathering speed forced him off.

Yesterday, Tommy got a little too brave or something, an airline spokesman said today. "He flew into a propeller, just as our Flight 315 was turning off the runway."

When it comes t' contests, it's easier t' predict boats than votes. Nuff wind around th' country these days t' fill all th' Swiftsure sails. Wouldn't mind tradin' with China, long's it's goods not places.

ON THE HUSTINGS

Faurey Spells Out Pensions Policy

Dr. F. T. Faurey, Liberal candidate in Victoria, said Thursday night the present old age pension was never intended to be the sole financial support for senior citizens.

It was considered only as "assistance," Dr. Faurey said, denying that he had ever said it was "sufficient."

The original $40 monthly pension was a "product of a committee composed of members from all the parties," he told an audience at Carnarvon Church Hall.

The committee had unanimously recommended the $40 monthly pension without a means test because of the difficulty of administering it among Canada's scattered population.

"It was thought wise to leave the supplementary payments to the provinces," Dr. Faurey said. The Liberal candidate blasted the "bald statements" by B.C. Social Credit leaders that the provincial government pays a $20 monthly bonus.

Of the 99,360 persons receiving old-age assistance in B.C. 72,819 get no bonus at all, and the remainder get varying amounts up to $20, he said.

Personalities will not bring Canada the results we need in the management of our affairs, Social Credit candidate Noel Bell said Thursday night.

Williams Hits Out at SC 'Fascist' Trend

Victoria CCF candidate, Victor Williams, said Thursday night the Liberal and Conservative parties will come to the CCF some day asking for protection against the "fascist" tendencies of Social Credit.

"We will accept them if they put humanity first, as we do," Mr. Williams said at a house meeting at 158 Robertson.

The candidate also hit out at the Social Credit promise of $100 a month pensions, which he said was not true. The pledge was dependent on what the individual provinces do, he said.

The present Liberal government has lost touch with the people, Victoria Social Credit

Strachan Explains CCF Public Ownership

Robert Strachan, CCF opposition leader in the B.C. legislature, told an election meeting at Fernie Thursday night that the CCF believes in public ownership of those industries which exert the greatest control over the country's economy.

The ownership could be municipal, provincial or federal. The CCF believes chartered banks should be taken over or subjugated by the Bank of Canada, he said.

The transportation system should be unified, controls placed on the agricultural implement field, and public utilities placed under public ownership.

Mr. Strachan was replying to a question whether the CCF, if elected, would nationalize industry.

Finance Minister Harris Thursday promised Canadian fruit growers "immediate action" should the import of fresh fruit at abnormally low prices injure the domestic industry.

In a release issued through Okanagan Federated Freight Shippers at Kelowna, Mr. Harris said the federal government is deeply aware of difficulties being faced by fruit growers through low-price importing.

If low-priced United States fruit starts to flood the Canadian market he said the government will avail itself of authority it has under the Customs Act, as well as the "emergency escape clause" of the general agreement on tariffs.

He said the long-range plan would be to re-negotiate the tariff rate on certain commodities. The need had not yet risen for immediate action.

Dave Fulton said Thursday night the Liberals have become panic-stricken and in some cases now are "indulging in personal abuse" of opposing candidates in their attempt to get re-elected June 10.

Mr. Fulton, who ran third behind Donald Fleming and John Diefenbaker for the Progressive

Mr. Bell said his opponents in Esquimalt-Saanich riding "have only their personalities to offer because the parties they represent have no policies, only promises."

Speaking at St. Andrew's Hall, Sidney, Mr. Bell said: "We must support a movement that gets things done. We can see what Social Credit has done for our province."

"And what Social Credit has done for B.C., it can do for Canada."

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, said Thursday night that Canada should follow Britain's example in opening up trade with Communist China.

The Esquimalt-Saanich Conservative candidate added that he would be "careful" about recognizing Red China in the United Nations.

At a meeting attended by some 40 persons in St. Martin's-in-the-Field Church hall, he said Canada is becoming increasingly dependent economically and politically on the U.S.

"The Conservative policy has always been Canada first," Gen. Pearkes said.

candidate Wajdo Skillings said Thursday night.

"They are just trying to bulldoze you into returning a government that doesn't have a clue or an idea what you want," he said.

Mr. Skillings continued his attack on the government's "tight money" policy and blamed it for the recent closure of the Manning Lumber Co. here.

About 85 persons attended the meeting in Oak Bay Junior High School.

Conservative leadership last year, said in a radio address from Vancouver that the Liberals hurried Fisheries Minister Sinclair into central British Columbia after Mr. Diefenbaker's visit there in an attempt to offset the Conservative leader's influence.

City Girl Wins Role in Hollywood

Filming in Hollywood starts today for "The Female Animal" in which Victoria's Marcia Vaughan has a speaking role.

Marcia, 20, is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Vaughan, 4255 Gordon Head Road, and the late Mr. W. R. Vaughan of Seattle. She will play in the Universal offering with stars Jane Powell and Hedy Lamarr.

Seattle-born, the pretty young lady attended St. Margaret's School here from 1945 to 1949, and last year with her family moved to their home in Victoria where they have spent summers for the last 13 years. Marcia came from Seattle to be presented to the lieutenant-governor at the United Services Ball in 1955.

She had her first screen test two months ago after being spotted as "good potential" while with Pasadena Playhouse prior to which she was featured vocalist with Russ Morgan and his orchestra in Hollywood.

Luck seems to run in the Vaughan family. Five years ago brother George, then 16, and attending Glenlyon School, won $20,000 in the Irish sweepstakes. He receives the money when he leaves the U.S. Marine Corps in September of this year.

MARCIA VAUGHAN . . . stepping to stardom?

MONTE ROBERTS

I have been asked to tell all I know about boats in sailing races.

Unfortunately, I know a great deal about boats in sailing races.

Boats in sailing races are called yachts, mainly because they cost yachts of money.

Yachts in sailing races require wind to propel them. Use of oars, paddle wheels, propellers, or nuclear fission is frowned on by most yachtsmen.

There are two kinds of wind used for propelling yachts:

1. Not enough wind.
2. Too much wind.

When there is not enough wind, the yacht becomes becalmed, although the yachtsman often isn't.

When there is too much wind, there is only one thing the yachtsman can do. He will stay at anchor and see above.

There are many types of yachts engaged in sailing races, but the three best known are as follows:

1. Sloop, ketch and yawl.
2. Many race-winning yachtsmen sloop to conquer. The ketch is often used for fishing, giving rise to the well-known expression "I didn't ketch nothin'."
3. As for the yawl, it is a sothe'n type boat.

If you are really interested in sailing, you will want to know something about the terms used:

List: Don't forget the salt, pepper, sugar, weiners and beer.

Luff: Makes the world go round.

These simple facts will make it possible for you, too, to be a yachtsman.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Dominion Bridge Co. of Vancouver has submitted low tender of $2,014,694 for steel work on the new Kelowna bridge across Okanagan Lake.

The only other bid was submitted by Western Bridge Steel Fabricators at $2,054,347.

The pontoon-type bridge is being constructed by the provincial Toll Bridges and Highway Authority.

Kenneth L. Harbur, 40, Seattle, was found guilty in city police court today of fraudulently obtaining lodging to the value of $19 from Douglas Hotel.

He was remanded for sentence to Monday.

HMCS Fraser will conduct mortar and rocket firing practice in the area between Race Rocks and Discovery Island Monday, June 17, between 10 a.m. and noon.

A charge of assault causing bodily harm against Ronald E. Thorne, 1125 Fort, was dismissed in city police court today.

Thorne was charged on complaint of Edward F. Enger, 920 Empress, who said Thorne struck him when Enger was taken to his room by the accused and another man after a party at their rooming house early May 12.

About 250 Vancouver Island sea cadets from five corps will begin arriving in Victoria tonight for a weekend inter-corps program and church parade.

They come from Port Alberni, Campbell River, Nanaimo and Duncan to enter competitions with Victoria cadets. Visitors will be billeted at HMCS Naden, where sports including whaler races and shooting will be conducted Saturday.

Sunday, after church parade at Metropolitan and St. Andrew's Cathedral, there will be a march-past at a salute base set up at the Public Library.

Commodore P. D. Budge will inspect cadets Saturday morning.

A thief who entered Ramsay's Foundry, 435 Garbally, overnight Thursday trundled off with a rubber-tired, flat deck wheelbarrow worth $50. Police said there was no sign of entry to the premises and nothing else reported missing.

Robert B. Moir, 21, of 1836 Gonzales Avenue, graduated Tuesday from Gonzaga University, Spokane, Wash. A graduate of St. Louis College here, he received a bachelor of business administration degree.

Ten-year-old Ann Appleby, 3134 Balfour, was admitted at Jubilee Hospital Thursday with a severely cut arm after she pushed her hand through a glass door at Centennial United Church.

The little girl was attending a choir practice and on hurrying through the swinging door accidentally pushed her hand through a glass pane.

Her condition today was reported to be good, but hospital authorities expected to keep her under observation for about a week.

Pearlman Elected By City Lawyers

Edwin E. Pearlman was elected president of the Victoria Bar Association at an annual meeting Thursday night.

Also elected were John G. McIntosh, vice-president; E. George MacMinn, treasurer; and John B. Gault, secretary.

60 Teenagers Expected To Enter Beaver Lake Swim

Several out-of-town entries are already being received for annual Labor Day distance swim for teenagers at Beaver Lake and Elk Lakes.

Officials say this year's contest, the third since it was started as a result of a teenager's dare, will be the most ambitious program yet undertaken.

Over 60 entries are anticipated. Name of the sponsoring organization was changed this year from Beaver-Elk Lake Swim Committee to Beaver Lake Annual All-Day Juvenile Sports Events Committee.

The September 2 program will be enlarged this year to include fly-casting, horse shoes and outdoor checker contests.

Main attraction, as in the past two years, will be the two-mile distance swims from Elk Lake (Happyland) to Beaver Lake beach.

There will be three races. One for youths 13 and under, one for those 16 and under, and one for those 19 and under.

Kindergarten Space Only Half City Need

Scarcity of accommodation in district schools will limit kindergarten enrolments in Greater Victoria this fall to about half the number which is expected to apply.

A schedule of classes released today by board officials shows there are facilities available for pre-school training for a maximum of 1,080 youngsters and some classes won't start until January, 1958.

During regular registration week, May 6 to 10, nearly 2,000 registrations were received. Two new kindergartens have not yet called for registrations, one opened registration today.

RIGID FORMULA

School authorities have adopted a formula for selection of pupils which will be rigidly adhered to as the fairest method of determining which applicants will be accepted for instruction.

First priority goes to children registered within the announced registration period. Second consideration will be given youngsters living within the school district boundaries where the kindergarten is located.

If there are still vacancies, consideration will then be given children from adjoining school areas. Last to be accepted will be children from other school areas and late registration.

WAITING LIST

A waiting list will be maintained and any vacancies occurring during the school year will be filled from it.

Here are the nine kindergartens which will operate under school board jurisdiction in the 1957-58 school year. (Private kindergartens are not listed.)

George Jay School four classes, James Bay School two classes (possibly four), Lamson School four classes, North Ward School four classes, Oaklands School four classes, Sir James Douglas School four classes. A new kindergarten will open at Margaret Jenkins School (four classes), and in January a kindergarten will open at Doncaster School. Another is planned but not yet definite, at Frank Hobbs School.

Registrations for new centres at Frank Hobbs and Doncaster will be called for at a later date and the priority system will be used.

Registration for Margaret Jenkins opened today and parents are asked to register "as soon as possible."

Children from Margaret Jenkins and Monterey School districts who have been registered at Sir James Douglas will be automatically transferred to the Margaret Jenkins kindergarten.

Kindergartens which operated last year at Glenford and Willows have been closed to the need for all available classroom space for elementary school pupils.

Most of it is lying on the ground for curing in the sun, and the weather forecast indicates it will stay dry through Sunday and will be stacked successfully.

It was feared that if the crop stood much longer it would become too dense for easy harvesting, and subject to damage by a heavy rain.

FOREST HAZARD

The fire hazard in coastal woods was described today by Forest Service officials as only "moderate" despite the recent hot, dry weather.

But another week or so of warm weather could result in a forest closure, Vancouver Forest District supervisor D. B. Taylor warned.

There are 23 fires burning throughout the province, all comparatively small ones which are under control.

Warm Weekend Promised, Gentle Breezes

Record Selling In Pop, Ice Cream

Victoria's heat wave of Wednesday and Thursday has been replaced by a more usual brand of summer weather—warm sun, cool winds along the waterfront, a few early-morning fog patches, and a smattering of high cloud.

It will continue through Saturday and Sunday, according to weatherman William Mackie, with only the high cloud from a far-off Pacific storm marring the sky.

ESSENTIALLY SUNNY

"It will be essentially sunny," he said. "Although the maximum temperature at Gonzales Observatory is not expected to exceed 65 degrees, temperatures will rise above 70 in the sheltered portions of the city and district away from the sea breeze."

Beaches have become more crowded with swimmers and sunbathers, and soft drink bottling firms have reported record sales for May.

A spokesman for a large ice cream manufacturer said sales have been extremely high, and that "it has been a little difficult in the last day or two to keep up, but we've managed."

FARMERS' PROBLEM

Farmers have been faced with a peculiar problem because of the favorable growing weather of the last month of having to cut a lush and early hay crop.

Most of it is lying on the ground for curing in the sun, and the weather forecast indicates it will stay dry through Sunday and will be stacked successfully.

It was feared that if the crop stood much longer it would become too dense for easy harvesting, and subject to damage by a heavy rain.

The fire hazard in coastal woods was described today by Forest Service officials as only "moderate" despite the recent hot, dry weather.

But another week or so of warm weather could result in a forest closure, Vancouver Forest District supervisor D. B. Taylor warned.

There are 23 fires burning throughout the province, all comparatively small ones which are under control.

Explorer's Ship Replica Studied

New 'Discovery' Urged For Centennial Voyage

A campaign to raise funds for the construction of a replica of Capt. George Vancouver's famous ship, the "Discovery," which circumnavigated Vancouver Island in 1792, is being considered by the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce.

The group, at a meeting at Butchart's Garden Thursday, appointed a committee to investigate the possibility of constructing the wooden sailing ship and of organizing a historic pageant in Victoria in centennial year.

The ship would be sailed around the coast and would also be used in connection with the proposed historic pageant.

Chamber officials believe the ship or a smaller version of the vessel could be built through public subscription. This method was used by the British to build a replica of the Mayflower which is now on its way to the United States.

The Discovery was 99 feet long and had a tonnage of 330.

50 CENTS EACH

"If everyone subscribed 50 cents, we could build the ship," said Sam Lane, chairman of the group.

TWO SHIPS?

The combined pageant-ship project was strongly endorsed by Guy Moore, director of the Ontario development branch of the department of travel and publicity, who suggested the plan might include the building of two ships, one British and one Spanish.

Vancouver Island might undertake the construction of one ship and Vancouver the other.

An admission fee could be charged to people who want to see the ships under construction as a means of raising funds.

"The two ships, plus a historic pageant, would draw thousands of people to your province," he said.

Mr. Lane said the pageant and the construction of a historical ship would appeal to thousands of U.S. visitors.

"The ships could call in at U.S. ports, such as Vancouver, Washington. They would do more to publicize centennial year than anything else."

Mr. Lane felt that all organized groups should be asked to assist in staging a pageant.

Keate Renamed To UBC Senate

J. Stuart Keate, Victoria Daily Times publisher, has been re-elected to the Senate of the University of B.C. for the 1957-60 term.

Only Vancouver Island man elected to the Senate, he also served during the 1953-56 term.

Causeway Crowded For Lively Show

Close to 5,000 people crowded the causeway and the lawns of the Legislative Buildings Thursday evening to enjoy the twin attractions of a colorful sunset ceremony and the official welcome to entries in the Swiftsure ocean race classic.

Twenty-five gleaming hulled entries in the race were moored side by side in the inner harbor as skippers and crews craned for a view of the sunset ceremonial, carried out with precision and dignity by 4 Light Anti-Aircraft Battery.

Two hundred men, plus the band of 5 Medium Battery, presented one of the most impressive flag-lowering rituals seen here.

Earlier, Mayor Percy Scurrell, aboard the schooner Black Dog at the CPR dock, broadcast a welcome message over the loud-hallers to the visiting yachtsmen.

He called the race a "real test of skill and courage," and gave as his wish that the "best boat and the best men" win.

NEW TROPHIES

Two new trophies were presented during the pre-race ceremonies. William Gilmore, manager of T. Eaton Co., handed over a new "A" Class trophy to Royal Victoria Yacht Club commodore Jack Gann, who also accepted the B.C. Cement Trophy for "AA" Class.

RVYC members are mounting a 24-hour watch in the main Eaton's window, where a chart of the course and moveable facsimiles of the competing boats are on display.

Progress reports are being given out through a public address system as positions are marked on the chart.

THEY'RE HERE!

Merry-Making Shriners Parade Tonight

Tonight's the night! The Shrine will be shaking! Close to 3,000 Shriners are on deck here, 1,000 registered by noon today, for a spring ceremony.

The additional 2,000 were due from Vancouver and Seattle boats early this afternoon.

The man termed the "Illustrious Potentate," Irvin Miller, Vancouver, today told Victorians what Shriners are.

"The reason we are Shriners (a Masonic order) is to help children. You become a Shriner to work," he said.

The top-a-chelon Masonic organization operates 17 hospitals throughout North America, two in Canada, for suffering youngsters.

Shriners, traditional merry-makers, are just people who "want to let off steam . . . for a purpose. It's harmless amusement."

2,500 IN B.C.

There are 700,000 Shriners in North America; 2,500 in B.C.

It doesn't take money to be a Shriner, said the Potentate, "but one must be a millionaire as far as the heart is concerned."

The top man of the Pacific Northwest gathering of Shrine organizations is a dental laboratory owner in Vancouver, aged 58. He has been "in the Shrine" 12 years.

Why the same? "It's the same as any organization, one must have some identification. Why the secrecy in initiation?"

"That's beside the point."

BIG PARADE

Tonight at 7.30, a huge parade of garbed Shriners with bands, starts from Belleville and Menzies, and moves along the downtown area.

There will be 143 new Shrine candidates initiated in the Memorial Arena Saturday, and open to the public between 7.30 and 9 p.m., will be 1,500 Shriners, in garb, executing exacting marching manoeuvres. A dance will follow.

ON DECK THROUGHOUT RACE

Picnic Foods to Satisfy
By PENNY SAVER

With the promise of sunny days, we're all set to go off on picnics this weekend. There is something really special about food that is eaten by the lake or ocean or in a wooded picnic spot. It always tastes so much better!

Standard fare for outdoor meals includes salads... fruit or vegetable... and right now the selection of summer foods on local markets is wonderful. If your tastes run to vegetable salads, here are the foods to go on your shopping list: Local tomatoes, all sizes, are two pounds for 35 cents. They're good eating and firm, and just right for your own "chef's special." Cucumber toms are 38 cents a pound, and cress, 30 cents. Of course, you'll need lettuce. It's yours for 15 cents.

For a tasty combination salad, add watercress, at 10 cents a bunch, and radishes, bright and crisp at two bunches for 15 cents. Green onions, must, are the same price. Chop them up as fine as you can, and they are especially good for the vegetable or potato salads. Celery stalks come in handy in the hot weather, too. You can fill pieces with soft cheese and serve them as nibbles, salt them and have them as an extra vegetable, or add them to the list of foods to be chopped into your salad. Local cucumbers, little ones, are five cents each, and larger ones, 20 cents. Carrots have an interesting taste when shredded and added to a salad. They add color, too. They are two bunches for quarter.

On the fruit display I found real summertime foods. Pine-

apples are 49 cents each, and mangoes, 25 cents each. Seedless grapes, either green or deep purple are now available. Green ones cost 38 cents a half pound and purple, 35 cents a half pound. Plums, always favorites as desserts or for in-between meal snacks, are sweet and juicy, and cost 28 cents a half pound. Ripe cantaloupes are 29 cents each, and small ones are two for 39 cents. What would any summer day meal outdoors be without strawberries... they are 35 cents a box. I don't need to suggest the many ways you can serve these sweet berries.

For really refreshing hot weather cooler, fresh lime juice with soda or ice water plus sweetening is just the thing. Fresh limes are 29 cents for three.

Well, are you all set now for the picnic? Let's go.

TIPS ON TIPS

I am an inexperienced traveler and am planning a trip for this summer. I would like to know how much and when I should pay the various tips on buses and trains and at hotels and restaurants.

Louise Davis Answers:

"Tipping averages according to service, amount of baggage, the type of restaurant or hotel, and what you can afford. It would be a good idea to allow a special sum for tips in your travel budget. Before you depart, I advise getting from the bank ample amounts of dimes, quarters and 50 cent pieces that you stash away in a special coin purse and have with you at all times. Getting caught with nothing but folding money is exasperating and frustrating at tipping time. Generally, 15 per cent is an average. Should you be at a swanky hotel or restaurant, you might want to tip a little more. You tip anyone who gives you service. Suppose, for example, you have a suit case and a smaller piece.

Louise Davis

You are spending one night on a train and one night in a first-class hotel. Your tips might be as follows (allowing 25c per bag each time it is transported): station employee who deposits your luggage in the Pullman car, 50c; your porter as you leave the next morning, 75c; Red Cap who delivers the bags to a taxi, 50c; taxi driver, 15 per cent; hotel porter who takes the luggage to your room, 50c. You also tip anyone summoned for room service, and if you spend more than one night in a hotel, you might wish to leave 50c or a dollar on your dresser for the maid, depending on the kind of service she gives you. If you take a bus tour, and if the driver is helpful in making the trip pleasant, it would be all right to tip him, depending on what you think it is worth. You'd have to use your own judgment when the time comes. On a conducted tour, passengers often take up a collection. On a regular run, tipping isn't necessary.

Let your imagination be your guide in salad making. Experiment with combinations of colors, flavors, textures and seasonings. Add seasonings with a light hand—especially garlic, cheese, herbs, parsley and onion

Girl Judged Most Beautiful

Q—"We have just elected the most beautiful girl and the most handsome boy in our school. Now all the other girls feel as though they are as ugly as homemade soap. We would like to have you give us some information about how blondes should wear their hair and so forth. The girl who was judged most beautiful makes fun of all of the other girls."

A—"The way you wear your hair depends on facial contour rather than whether a girl is a blonde or a brunette. Evidently success has gone to the head of the most beautiful one in a most unbecoming way. I do not think the rest of you need worry about her. At this rate she will not long seem lovely to anyone. "I weighed 146 pounds a few years ago and was often complimented on my figure. Is there any way I can lose 15 pounds and make sure that part of it comes off of my hips?"

"I feel certain that tall girls and women are puzzled by weight-height charts. The weight they usually give for a woman 5 feet 10 inches tall is about 155 pounds. Yet one very often sees pictures of models who are 5 feet 8 or 9 inches and weigh 125 pounds."

A—"One hundred and fifty to 155 is about right for your height. One hundred and twenty-five pounds would be terribly underweight. Many models sacrifice health and best looks for their careers since the camera makes them look much heavier than they actually are. I do not think you should weigh less than 145 to 150. If you will take hip-slimming exercises while reducing it will speed the loss in inches in the hips.

Q—"I am 16 years old and have freckles on my back and shoulders. They are not small and light but big and dark. I hate to wear sleeveless blouses or go to the beach because of them. Are there any freckle creams which will take them away?"

A—"I do not think there are any freckle creams which are very effective. Lemon juice and cucumber juice are supposed to be mild bleaches. One way to dim and avoid freckles is to stay out of the sunlight. I certainly would not advise this because you would miss too

Solemnized in St. Paul's

On the altar of St. Paul's, Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, was a profusion of spring flowers and carnations, setting a floral background for the wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Jacqueline Shirley Walker, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Walker, 639 Constance Avenue, and the late Mr. W. Walker, and Lloyd Edward Lunt, son of Mrs. M. Lunt, Princess Avenue.

Rev. J. A. Roberts officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, William A. Walker, the petite bride wore a model gown of delustrated satin styled on princess lines with a mandarin collar and lily point sleeves. The graceful skirt extended into a full train. She carried a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and green ivy.

Matron of honor, Mrs. J. E. Bemister, and bridesmaid, Miss Nora Hunt, chose full-skirted dresses of nylon net in blue over green and orchid over mauve. They wore matching picture hats and carried sprays of white daisies. Flower girl, little Caroline Taylor, wore a pale yellow nylon organza dress with matching headband. She carried a basket of white daisies and yellow streamers.

The groom had Bob Halme as best man and ushering were Frank Clark and Roy Hinchcliffe.

A reception party was held in the Club Tango, Oak Bay, where

Lt. Cmdr. W. Woodward, RCN, proposed the toast to the bride. For travelling the bride wore a suit of imported black and white tweed with cape, style jacket, white hat and gloves and black patent shoes and bag. Her corsage was a gardenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lunt have returned from a honeymoon trip through Washington, and have made their home at 1669 Fairfield Road.

In Honor of the Bride

Bride-elect Miss Louanna Traunweiser, was honored when Mrs. H. Paulin, 3067 Larkdown Road, entertained at a coffee party and kitchen shower. Gifts, presented in a clothes basket, were ushered in by little Peter Laing and Anne Johnson. Red rose corsages were presented to Miss Traunweiser and her mother, Mrs. G. A. Traunweiser. Neighbors present included Mrs. Cyril Williams, Mrs. W. Passmore, Mrs. F. Fraser, Mrs. F. Grossmith, Mrs. Reg. Williams, Mrs. W. Laing, Mrs. J. Gilbert, Mrs. D. Elford, Mrs. K. Lee, Mrs. J. ## MARUFFA LEADS SWIFTSURE

COLORFUL START OF GRUELLING OCEAN YACHT CLASSIC

Closely bunched seconds after start of Swiftsure ocean race at 9.30 a.m. today, 18 of 25 entries clawed across line off Brothie Ledge with little to choose between them. Seventeen chose starboard

tack at start; "loner" on port tack (foreground) is Totem, which came about and headed for U.S. with other entries immediately after aerial photo by Times photographer Bill Halkett was taken.

Skippers Pour On Canvas
As Winds Drop Suddenly

By MONTE ROBERTS

Yachtsmen sniffed the breeze off Brothie Ledge this morning, cast a weather eye at the wispy horse-tail clouds overhead, and smelled the possibility of the fastest Swiftsure ocean race on record.

By mid-afternoon the race contest as skippers hung on all canvas in light winds.

Earlier reefs had been shaken out and head sails set.

The fleet had split up with some competitors hugging the U.S. shore, the others close to the Canadian shore.

Leaders at 3 p.m. were: Maruffa, first boat home last year, close to Sheringham Point on the Canadian side, and Adios (last year's over-all winner) about parallel but well to the south of her on the U.S. side.

Bunched closely behind the leaders were Cotton Blossom, Sea Fever, Dörade, Mary Bower, Gomtra, Nautifus IV, Alacola, Ono, Diamond Head, Red Jacket, Delphin, Susy Q and Escapade.

The 9.30 a.m. start was kicked off by a brisk, southwest wind touching the 25 mile per hour mark; indications were for strong westerlies this afternoon; and hopes of the 25 skippers entered hung on winds brisk enough to help them beat up Juan de Fuca Strait against a strong flood tide.

Veteran observers rated the start as one of the best in the history of the 136-mile race from Victoria's waterfront to Swiftsure Lightship and return.

The entries were closely bunched at the starting gun. Most had at least one reef in their mainsails as they laid away from the southwest wind, heading toward Port Angeles on the starboard tack, to gain sea room for the zig-zag course they would need to clear Race Rocks.

All skippers fought to weather the adverse currents around Race Rocks during the slack tide period prior to noon today, and by that time at least five boats had made it.

Britain
Explodes
2nd Bomb

ABOARD FRIGATE ALERT,

South Pacific (Reuters). — A great multicolored fireball above the central Pacific today heralded Britain's second hydrogen bomb test.

The bomb was dropped in the area of Christmas Island, tiny atoll about 4,200 miles east of Japan and about 1,300 miles from Hawaii, by a Royal Air Force four-jet Valiant bomber.

The bomb exploded near Mader Island, some 400 miles south of Christmas Island.

Observers said the blast was much bigger than the first bomb Britain exploded to start the tests.

The first British hydrogen bomb is understood to have been a comparatively small device—a sort of "working model" on which the British scientists successfully tested their theories.

Today's blast, according to information reaching this ship, was the full-scale bomb. It was estimated to have the punch of 5,000,000 tons of TNT.

Curfew Relaxed
In Haiti Capital

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP). — The army eased off this capital city's curfew restrictions today as business and essential services assumed a semblance of normality. The curfew and martial law were imposed after last weekend's wild outburst of political feuding.

The curfew, at first effective from 9 p.m. to 4 a.m., now does not begin until 11 p.m. Army officials said that if calm continues the curfew can be abolished in a week. Cable communications are back to normal.

Algerian Rebels
Massacre Moslems

ALGIERS (Reuters). — Algerian insurgents massacred 301 Moslem males over the age of 15 in a blood raid on La Casbah, a tiny village in rugged mountains near Setif, according to reports reaching here today.

First news of the slaughter came when an observation plane reported fires blazing in the village in almost inaccessible mountains in eastern Algeria.

Troops making their way through the difficult mountains were met by the stench of death as they approached La Casbah, a village of 1,000 inhabitants.

They found corpses piled in the streets, and women hysterical with fear. The dead had been shot or had their throats cut. The bodies of 15 men killed by machine-gun fire were found in one house alone, the reports said.

Fairey Spells Out Pensions Policy

Dr. F. T. Fairey, Liberal candidate in Victoria, said Thursday night the present old age pension was never intended to be the sole financial support for senior citizens.

It was considered only as "assistance," Dr. Fairey said, denying that he had ever said it was "sufficient."

The original $40 monthly pension was a "product of a committee composed of members from all the parties," he told an audience at Carnarvon Church Hall.

The committee had unanimously recommended the $40 monthly pension without a means test because of the difficulty of administering it among Canada's scattered population.

"It was thought wise to leave the supplementary payments to the provinces," Dr. Fairey said.

The Liberal candidate blasted the "bald statements" by B.C. Social Credit leaders that the provincial government pays a $20 monthly bonus.

Of the 99,360 persons receiving old-age assistance in B.C. $25.15 get no bonus at all, and the remainder get varying amounts up to $20, he said.

Personalities will not bring Canada the results we need in the management of our affairs, Social Credit candidate Noel Bell said Thursday night.

Williams Hits Out at SC 'Fascist' Trend

Victoria CCF candidate, Vic Williams, said Thursday night the Liberal and Conservative parties will come to the CCF some day asking for protection against the "fascist" tendencies of Social Credit.

"We will accept them if they put humanity first, as we do," Mr. Williams said at a house meeting at 138 Robertson.

The candidate also hit out at the Social Credit promise of $100 a month pensions, which he said was not true. The pledge was dependent on what the individual provinces do, he said.

Strachan Explains CCF Public Ownership

Robert Strachan, CCF opposition leader in the B.C. legislature, told an election meeting at Fernie Thursday night that the CCF believes in public ownership of those industries which exert the greatest control over the country's economy.

The ownership could be municipal, provincial or federal. The CCF believes chartered banks should be taken over or subjugated by the Bank of Canada, he said.

The transportation system should be unified, controls placed on the agricultural implement field, and public utilities placed under public ownership.

Mr. Strachan was replying to a question whether the CCF, if elected, would nationalize industry.

Finance Minister Harris Thursday promised Canadian fruit growers "immediate action" should the import of fresh fruit at abnormally low prices injure the domestic industry.

In a release issued through Okanagan Federated Freight Shippers at Kelowna, Mr. Harris said the federal government is deeply aware of difficulties being faced by fruit growers through low-price importing.

If low-priced United States fruit starts to flood the Canadian market he said the government will avail itself of authority it has under the Customs Act, as well as the "emergency escape clause" of the general agreement on tariffs.

He said the long-range plan would be to re-negotiate the tariff rate on certain commodities. The need had not yet risen for immediate action.

Davie Fulton said Thursday night the Liberals have become panic-stricken and in some cases now are "indulging in personal abuse" of opposing candidates in their attempt to get re-elected June 10.

Mr. Fulton, who ran third behind Donald Fleming and John Diefenbaker for the Progressive

Mr. Bell said his opponents in Esquimalt-Saanich riding "have only their personalities to offer because the parties they represent have no policies, only promises."

Speaking at St. Andrew's Hall, Sidney, Mr. Bell said: "We must support a movement that gets things done. We can see what Social Credit has done for our province."

"And what Social Credit has done for B.C., it can do for Canada."

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, said Thursday night that Canada should follow Britain's example in opening up trade with Communist China.

The Esquimalt-Saanich Conservative candidate added that he would be "careful" about recognizing Red China in the United Nations.

At a meeting attended by some 40 persons in St. Martin's-in-the-Field Church hall, he said Canada is becoming increasingly dependent economically and politically on the U.S.

"The Conservative policy has always been Canada first," Gen. Pearkes said.

The candidate was supported by provincial Recreation Minister Earle Westwood, who called for a stepped-up national immigration policy.

About 85 persons attended the meeting in Oak Bay Junior High School.

U.K. Tories Suffer By-Election Jolts

LONDON (Reuters). — Opposition Labor party politicians today hailed three sharp jolts to the ruling Conservative party's popularity delivered in the last two days by parliamentary by-elections.

The setbacks came in votes in South Edinburgh Wednesday and in two industrial-residential London suburbs Thursday.

In the Edinburgh contest and in the North London suburb of Hornsey, former government majorities of more than 12,000 votes were slashed to 4,640 and 3,131 respectively, reducing these one-time Conservative strongholds almost to the status of marginal seats.

BLAME HIGH PRICES

And in the London East End suburb of East Ham North, the Labor party, defending its seat against a Conservative and two independent challengers, slightly increased its majority.

The Conservative share of the total East Ham vote fell by 11 per cent compared with the 1955 general election.

Labor spokesmen say the Conservative setbacks resulted partly from dissatisfaction with the government over last fall's Suez crisis, but mainly from discontent at the continued rise in the cost of living.

The results of the last two days followed the pattern of a string of by-elections earlier this spring in which the government lost one parliamentary seat to Labor and slumped badly in its share of the total polls elsewhere.

200 Lawyers Here July 4

More than 200 B.C. lawyers are expected to attend joint annual meetings of the Law Society of British Columbia and the B.C. section, Canadian Bar Association, in the Empress Hotel July 4 and 5.

Reports will be presented and considered for presentation to the Canadian Bar at Banff, Alta., in September.

A joint dinner July 4 will be addressed by Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson. Stuart Keate, publisher of the Times, will address a luncheon on the second day.

The meeting will conclude with a garden party Friday on the lawn of Government House. There will be a golf tournament at Oak Bay Saturday morning.

$10 Fine for Assault

Ralph Emeny, 555 Dupplin, was fined $10 in Saanich police court Thursday when found guilty of assaulting Cabel Singh, a neighbor of the same address.

Offence occurred May 20 at about 3.15 p.m. when Emeny and Cabel engaged in an argument over which tenant would cut the grass. Other domestic situations entered the argument and blows were struck.

84-Year-Old Twins Like Victoria But Only 1 Would Leave Ontario

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Two of the spryest old ladies in the world, with a grand total of 168 birthdays between them, are now visiting Victoria from their home in Port Dover, Norfolk County, Ontario.

They are twins—slim, neat and cheerful—and at 84 years of age they look as if they were good for another 20.

"This is our first trip West and we're enjoying every minute of it," says Mrs. George McIntosh and Mrs. C. M. McBride.

Remarkably, neither of the twins wears glasses or has any intention of wearing them.

"We can see all we want to see," laughed Mrs. McIntosh, and her sister nodded agreement.

They were born at Vittoria, in Norfolk County, the daughters of Dr. Walter McInnes, and have lived there all their lives.

"Our grandfather came out to Ontario from Scotland and next to Ontario we think of Scotland as our home," Mrs. McBride said.

Mrs. McBride, incidentally, would like to live in Victoria, but Mrs. McIntosh is a stout patriot.

"This is a lovely city," she said, "but I prefer the north country. I was born in Ontario and I'll lay my bones there. Its the finest in the world."

Edith and Eva — their christian names — are fast becoming familiar figures around Victoria. They are seen peering in store windows, walking the sunny pavements or embarking for sightseeing tours. The Grey Line people took them out to Butchart's Gardens Wednesday and they were enchanted.

PROGRESS REPORT BY TCA

By 1961, all 4-engine
...all turbine fleet
to bring you new
speed and comfort

The next few years will mark a revolutionary advance in air transportation. Present piston-engined types will be replaced by propeller-turbine and jet airliners. TCA, in the front rank of world airlines, will become the first intercontinental airline in the world to operate an all-turbine fleet.

The remodelling of the TCA fleet has already begun. In 1955, TCA introduced the now famous Viscount, and became the first airline in North America to fly turbo-prop aircraft.

An order has been placed for 20 Vickers Vanguard airliners, powered by Rolls-Royce Tyne turbo-prop engines. Seating up to 102 passengers and flying at 420 miles per hour, the Vanguard will serve TCA's high-density inter-city and Southern routes. The Viscount, likely to be the best short-range aircraft for many years, will continue to serve short-stage routes.

Giant Douglas DC8 jetliners will round out TCA's re-equipment programme. Cruising at 550 miles per hour, carrying up to 120 passengers, they will cut flying times on trans-Continental and trans-Atlantic services by almost half.

The composition of this future fleet has been determined after years of exhaustive study and evaluation. It represents a balanced combination of aircraft best able to fulfill TCA's particular route requirements.

Three fine aircraft...each ahead in its field

In the Vanguard and Viscount, advantage will be taken of the superior operating qualities of turbo-prop aircraft over medium and short distances. The turbo-jet DC8, with its higher speed, will realize its full potential on TCA's long distance routes.

'Candy' Set Doggonedest Clip Until Spotted, Trapped, Caught

NEW YORK (UP)—Foggy-turquoise Sugar Baby, $5,000 worth of speedy Bedlington terrier, was back in the world of veterinarians and dog shows today. Her Houston, Tex., owner hoped she had had enough of the wild life.

The champion dog who escaped from handlers a week ago at New York's Idlewild airport was recaptured Thursday by Vitautes Rapp, a Trans World Airlines employee. He got $500 for his efforts from a mighty relieved Virgen W. Wilson of Houston, the dog's owner.

Foggy-turquoise, who prefers to be called Candy, took off for the wild marshes of Long Island's south shore shortly after she arrived from England on her way to Houston. Since a good Bedlington can keep up with a jackrabbit, and Candy is a good one, there was no chance of anyone catching her at the time.

Wilson hired a helicopter to look for her and led a number of searches, but to no avail. So he headed back to Houston and posted a reward notice around the airfield.

Rapp spotted the dog Thursday and took off in the sort of pursuit that is inspired by a $500 reward. Things looked pretty hopeless until Candy's leash caught on an iron pipe. From then on it was simple.

Rapp said he would use part of the money to buy his two children a dog—but nothing as fancy or fast as Candy.

Dr. Chisholm Supports Ban

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Dr. Brock Chisholm of Victoria, former head of the world health organization, says 50,000 persons throughout the world will die as a result of every nuclear bomb test.

Dr. Chisholm said Thursday in an interview here the effects of radiation from the bomb tests are not immediate. He said they usually take the form of leukemia (cancer of the blood).

Dr. Chisholm said he is in hearty agreement with those in all nations who are working to have the bomb tests halted.

U.K. TO RELAX TRADE EMBARGO WITH N. KOREA

(See Also Page 3)

LONDON (Reuters)—A Board of Trade spokesman said today Britain will automatically relax her trade embargo with North Korea under the easing of trade controls with Communist China.

The list of goods banned for export to China covered North Korea. Relaxation of the embargo also affects exports to North Viet Nam, Tibet and Macao.

Russ Blast Dampens Arms Talks

LONDON (UP)—Soviet Russia today renewed its blasts against U.S. disarmament delegate Harold Stassen and U.S. West German plans for reunifying Germany, almost killing hopes for early agreement in the London disarmament talks.

The talks themselves were postponed until Monday so Stassen could fill in western delegates on NATO's "war approval" of his still secret proposals for a first step in disarmament.

Soviet press and radio pounded at the Tuesday communiqué announcing the decision of President Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that German reunification must precede a full disarmament agreement.

The communiqué proposed a four-power ministers' conference to solve reunification and other world problems as soon as east and west agree on the disarmament "first step."

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said hopes the UN disarmament subcommittee "would do some constructive work have been unfulfilled."

He made the announcement at a press conference, after returning from Washington, where he conferred with President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles.

The 81-year-old chancellor said he could disclose no details now, explaining that consultations are still going on among the Western allies.

MEXICAN STUDENTS IN MOB RIOT

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Juarez officials sought help from the Mexican army today in the wake of a riot of hundreds of Juarez Agricultural College students who barricaded streets, wrecked automobiles and attacked a residence with bricks and stones.

The school has been strike-bound for 27 days as 1,200 students have refused to return to classes.

MASSACRE

did not know the reason for the massacre, but speculated that it was another bloody chapter in the rivalry between the two big Algerian nationalist groups, the Algeria Nationalist Movement (MNA) and the National Liberation Front (FLN).

The village also was on the main mountain route the rebels use in moving from the Constantine area to the Algiers area. There was speculation that the attackers might have felt the villagers were betraying their movements.

USAF Car Kills Communist Guerilla Chief

ATHENS (UP)—An American Air Force car today knocked down and killed General Stefanos Sarafis, war-time commander of the Communist guerilla army "Elas," and Greek authorities immediately imposed strict security measures.

Sarafis was killed in a suburb of Athens and his English wife was seriously injured.

The American driver of the car, identified by the United States Information Service as Marqom Mousalli, was immediately placed under arrest.

Naval Cadets Inspected By RCN Officer

Importance of physical training to Navy League cadets—junior corps at RCSC Rainbow—was stressed by Cmdr. D. L. MacKnight, RCN, when he made the unit's annual inspection.

"Play every game you can. I cannot stress too highly the importance of physical fitness," Cmdr. MacKnight said.

"I am most impressed with the high morale and calibre of the cadets," he said, adding that although the RCN has no direct affiliation with them, the service is interested and considers the training worthwhile.

He hoped the many would continue training when older in RCSC Rainbow and perhaps eventually join the navy.

Cmdr. MacKnight presented two awards for 100 per cent attendance to AB Peter Reid and AB William Hilderson.

Chief PO I. U. Reid received the general proficiency award from Mrs. J. L. Muirhead, president of Women's Auxiliary to the Navy League, donor of the prize.

Musketry instructor Capt. W. Brown presented the Clarke efficiency trophy for training to LS E. Francis on behalf of its donor, who is serving with external affairs in Warsaw.

Denis Brown, president of Victoria branch of the Navy League, welcomed visitors to the inspection and asked for assistance in making the training possible.

NEW FIGHTING IN TUNISIA

TUNIS (AP)—French troops and members of the Tunisian National Guard clashed on Tunisian territory today. First reports said there were several killed and wounded.

The fighting occurred near Souk-Ei-Araba where there is a camp for Algerian refugees, who the Tunisians claim have been flooding across the border during the last few days.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and the second questioner a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Larry Neber, age 8, of La Jolla, Calif., for his question:

What makes people able to talk?

Feel around the front of your throat gently with your fingers. You will find a roundish lump. Now speak a few words and sing some high notes and low notes. You can feel the round bump move up and down. This is your voice box where most of your speaking and singing is made. The proper name for it is the larynx.

The neck is a very important part of the body. It holds some large blood vessels, a pipe that carries your food to the stomach and a pipe that carries the air to and from your lungs. Most of these parts work together when you speak or sing. In the back of the neck is the top of the backbone and the body nerves which lead to the brain. But these are sealed off from the parts in front which help make the voice.

The food pipe and the air pipe both end inside your throat. As you know you cannot use them both at once. There are muscles which close off the air pipe when you swallow. Otherwise the food gets stuck in the wrong place. Speaking is done with the air pipe and the voice box.

It is done as you breathe. The nose and mouth play a part in breathing so they also play a part in speaking. Now speak a few more words and notice how your voice rises in with your breathing. Do you speak when you breathe in, when you breathe out or when you hold your breath? Your voice will work only while you are breathing out. In fact, you have to stop talking when you run out of breath.

The larynx and the other solid parts that make the voice are worked by the air you breathe it out from the lungs. The voice box is made of bands of strong gristle. Stretching across inside it from back to front are two tough strings called the vocal cords. There are muscles to move the vocal cords and make them act like violin strings.

The string on a musical instrument makes noise because a stroke or a twang sets it vibrating, or throbbing. The vocal cords work in the same way. The rush of air as you breathe out sets them twanging. Delicate muscles know how to move the vocal cords so they can make high sounds, low sounds and in between sounds. For high sounds, the vocal cords are held tight across the voice box. For low sounds they are held less tight. When you are not breathing, the vocal cords are relaxed. They are held apart so that the air passes easily between them as you breathe.

The voice begins down in the voice box. But the speaking and singing made down there is not nearly loud or clear enough for everyday use. To make itself heard, the voice uses a system built right in to your head.

Sound is enlarged when it flows into caves and cavities. What it does is to bounce off the walls and double itself with echoes. The caves and cavities which enlarge your voice are in your mouth. Here also are muscles which move the sound around and alter it. The tongue itself is a strong muscle.

As you talk, notice how the tongue moves against the soft back and the hard front of your mouth to form different words. The jaws also open and close and certain sounds are made with the lips. Countless complex little muscles work together to speak a single sentence. We decide what to say and the details are carried out by our wonderful bodies without further instructions.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Phil Stoup, age 12, of Dallas, Texas, for his question:

Do Horn Toads Really Spit Blood from Their Eyes?

Certain toads give off a poison strong enough to harm a dog. But no genuine toad spits blood from his eyes. This cute trick is performed by the horned toad who is not really a toad at all. He is not even a member of the great amphibian class to which all true toads belong. The horned toad is a lizard.

This fellow has a flat, toad-like body and he likes to squat toad fashion on the ground. His various cousins enjoy life on the deserts, prairies and plateaus. Each is colored to match the ground on which he squats. And the horned lizard hates to be disturbed. This is when he pulls his trick of squirting blood from his eye.

It seems that only certain horned lizards know how to squirt blood. Once in awhile you pick up one and what! A small jet of red blood is sprayed onto your clothes. Chances are that he won't squirt again for some time. He may squirt out of either eye or once in a great while from both eyes. A beautiful horned lizard can squirt a jet of blood eight feet.
